ARLINGTON HEIGHTS HERALD

VOLUME 23, NUMBER 43 | Published Every Friday by PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS Inc. | Entered as second class matter under act of March 3, 1879, at Arlington Heights, Ill. | ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, ILL. | FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1950 | 4 SECTIONS — 28 PAGES | $3.00 PER YEAR

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS 1950-51 BUDGET IS $271,550

1950 is greatest year in Arlington building

Previous yearly records broken in first five months of 1950

Optimistic village officials and citizens, generally, never thought that there could be as much building in Arlington Heights as there promises to be this year. The permits of the first five months of 1950 exceed the yearly totals of 1947, 48 or 49.

Two hundred homes during a 12 month period have been considered something to talk about. The total for the January to May 31 period is 223.

"Indications are," stated Commissioner Ahmer, "that June will be another half million dollar record breaker." Those 223 home building permits issued prior to June 1 total $2,833,800.

THE MAY PERMITS for all purposes total $889,390. They include, in addition to home building, the new St. James church ($250,000) a factory building to cost $58,600 and $32,790 repairs, alterations, etc.

The grand total for all permits for the five months is nearly four million dollars.

The five months home building total is:

January	1	$ 18,000
February	106	1,271,000
March	36	476,700
April	40	540,000
May	40	548,100

Seven of the May homes are for private owners. Balance are being erected by builders. The number being erected by them are:

A. C. Jacobs	2
Jacob Mauer	5
H. R. Jacobsen	3
Mr. Besinger, single family	3
Mr. Besinger, 4-units	16
Community Builders	3
Wm. E. Trude	2
Johnson & Bidderman	1
Chicago Steel	1
Paul Petersen	4

Private owners and site of homes are:

Wolf Hacke, 612 N. Douglas, two homes at 703 and 709 N. Pine.

Martin Wolf, 2105 E. Euclid.

Wm. Bakula, 1114 Chestnut.

Alex Stoppel, 121 S. Dunton.

Geo. Ellefsen, 646 S. Evergreen.

Ray Krambeer, 921 N. Vail.

Commissioner Ahmer has been forced to establish office hours. He can only be reached mornings at the municipal building. Afternoons he will spend in the field. It is no easy job to keep check on 200 or more homes that are in progress of construction.

COMPARISON figures of the average cost of homes for which May permits were issued shows that Arlington Heights leads all northwest towns, except Park Ridge. The figures are:

	Average
Park Ridge, 47 homes	$15,412
Arl. Hts., 40 homes	13,703
Des Plaines, 64 homes	11,185
Mt. Prospect, 36 homes	10,743
Bensenville, 5 homes	12,800
Palatine, 23 homes	9,164

Nine homes were built in Barrington at an average cost of $19,089.

Reports have it that Guy Henry is negotiating for an estate in the southwestern part of Arlington upon which he is contemplating the erection of a residence costing nearly $100,000.

Wm. Trude reports that the demand for his homes exceed the supply. All completed homes are sold, as well as homes now under construction.

The Besinger organization, which is constructing 100 homes in Scarsdale, has a waiting list for those homes.

'Summer Night's Dream' dance tomorrow

Tomorrow night, June 23, promises to be a gala evening when the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club takes over the Mt. Prospect Country Club at 9 p. m. for their "Summer Night's Dream" dance. Music will be provided by Howy Wendt and his orchestra, and the tickets, which are $3.00 per couple, may be purchased from any club member or at the door the night of the dance.

The decorations will be unusual and will be a pleasant surprise to all those attending the dance. Formal dress is optional.

Chairmen for the dance are Mrs. Edward Crofoot, who is in charge of decorations and Mrs. Don Winkelman, who is in charge of ticket sales.

A portion of the proceeds from the danee will be put into a fund to help defray expenses in connection with sending a delegate to the national women's club convention in May, 1951.

Rezone site for VFW proposed club house

Arlington Heights VFW will have the green light on the right to erect a club house at Yale and Northwest highway as soon as the required ordinance is passed.

Arlington Heights village dads Monday night instructed the village attorneq, Hugo J. Thal, to draw up the ordinance rezoning the property to all commercial.

The ordinance will have a clause stating that in event the property is sold before the present owners (Arlington Heights Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 981) build on it, it will revert to its original classification. Once the building is begun, it will be permanently commercial.

RESIDENTS in the 600 block on N. Belmont ave. were present at Monday night's board meeting to protest having to put a sidewalk in on the west side of that block. The plat survey shows that part of that block does not have sufficient village parkway to allow the erection of a sidewalk. One of the owners being asked to put a walk in front of his place, was asked to present the board with a survey of his property before any further action can be taken.

Clarence Goelz presented the board with surveys for Hickory st., which he plans to improve the same as Beverley ave. He wanted the approval of this street also, so that when the man comes out to check for sewer in that area he can have him give him an estimate on both streets. The board gave their approval.

A LETTER from Robert Himel in regard to the pollution of Weller Creek was read aloud. It inquired as to what the village has done in regards to clearing up this situation and insisted that action must be taken soon.

The board informed Himel, who was present, of the recent government grant it had received to use in drawing up plans for a new sewerage treatment plant, and also told him that the village engineer was now busy preparing these plans. They promised to do the best they could as soon as possible.

Forest ave. property owners will be asked to attend a hearing next week in regards to the improvement of that street. A date has not been officially set.

Charles P. O'Hagan was given an o. k. to build prefab homes on the lots previously o. k.'d for such homes by the village board. Board members, as well as Mayor Albert W. Goedke, have inspected the "sample" prefab home and found it to be nice looking and of excellent workmanship.

ATTORNEY THAL was instructed to draw up a lease to negotiate with the Chicago and Northwestern railroad for use as village parking areas of the railroad parks, exclusive from the parts being leased by the Park Board.

No fireworks to be sold or used in Arlington Heights

Mayor Albert W. Goedke again reminds the people of Arlington Heights that fireworks are not permitted in the village and warns that the police have been directed to enforce the ordinance prohibiting the sale or "shooting" of fireworks.

In an interview with the Herald the Mayor said, "We have had an excellent safety record with no serious accidents caused by fireworks here and every effort will be made to maintain that record. We solicit the cooperation of all to make this another safe and sane Fourth of July."

300 sign for swim lessons at Heights pool

Over 300 youngsters have signed up for the free swimming lessons at Arlington Heights pool this summer, 200 of which are beginners. This response, according to Alfred Blume who is in charge of the swimming program, is way over the estimated enrollment.

This swimming program is being brought to the Arlington pool through the cooperation of the Chicago Chapter Red Cross, which is furnishing qualified water safety instructors to aid in the program.

Classes will begin Monday, June 26, and will continue throughout the summer, according to the following schedule announced by Alfred Blume. Classes for boys will be held Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays from 10 to 12:30 o'clock and the classes for girls will be on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 10 to 12:30 o'clock.

BLUME URGES the parents of children who have not previously enrolled to encourage the youngsters to take advantage of this opportunity to learn to swim. He announced that an achievement trophy will be given by the Chicago Herald American sports department to both the boy and the girl under 15 years of age enrolled in the beginners class who makes the most improvement under the summer program.

There have been many inquiries about adult swimming lessons. In order to organize a class at least 15 or 20 adults would have to sign up. A tentative night, Wednesday from 7 to 8 p. m., has been set and lesons would cost $10 for six. Anyone interested should contact Midge Bentley or Dave Allen at the Arlington Park Field House, 620, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. this week and next.

Beginners classes are full to capacity but there are still a few openings in the intermediate classes. Those interested in advanced swimming lessons or junior and senior life saving may still sign up until Saturday of this week.

Crop-saver firm starts building in Arlington

Construction has started on a factory building on East Davis st., near the Arlington treatment plant for the Crop-Saver Chemical Co., 3511 Potomac ave., Chicago.

The building will have between thirteen and fourteen thousand square feet.

The firm is engaged in the formulating of agricultural chemicals such as DDT for the corn borer, insecticides and fungacides for protection of crops.

Because of the nature of the business the village of Arlington and the State Sanitary Board made an exhaustive investigation of the systems used in handling dust and waste materials. The state investigators visited the plant in Chicago and has given its approval to the methods used. Plant wastes will be noninjurious to the village treatment plant or to the waters of Weller Creek.

J. F. Rogers of that firm is now a resident of Arlington Heights. William Reeda, president, is building a home south of Palatine.

COOL WEATHER—BUT 440 STILL SWIM ON OPENING DAY OF POOL

Cool weather yesterday, Wednesday, kept the opening day pool attendance at a low ebb in comparison with other opening days at Arlington Heights swimming pool.

However, by 4:30 p. m. over 440 youngsters had braved the cool breezes and plunged into the water, which was only about 67 degrees. The wading pool was full of toddling tykes who also preferred playing in water to being an onlooker because of the cool day.

The record opening day attendance passed 1,000 one year, when extremely warm weather made everyone eager for a chance to cool off.

District 24 to vote on 2 room addition and $53,000 bonds

School district 24 has called a special election for July 15 at which four propositions will be presented to the voters.

1. Authority to build a two-room addition.
2. Issue $53,000 in bonds.
2. Raise maximum educational tax rate to 75c.
4. Raise building tax rate to 25c.

Decision to hold the election came after a number of conferences between the school board, the PTA and farm owners.

It is understood that the curtailing of the original building plans has been accepted by all groups and there will be little opposition.

The school is so crowded that this fall 20 children will be sent to the Prospect Heights school.

Two seriously injured in Palatine auto accident

John Schroeder, of Arlington Airport apartments, and Mrs. Alfred Watt, of Brinker road, Barrington, were seriously injured early Saturday afternoon on Route 14.

Mrs. Watt was traveling northwest in a small car. Mr. Johnson, was on his way home from Woodstock. When making the curve at the intersection of the old and new Northwest Highway, northwest of Palatine, the Schroeder car left the pavement and after traveling 75 feet on the shoulder, skidded across the road and landed almost on top of the Watt car.

Autoists were able to remove both drivers, who were taken to the Palatine Community hospital. Mrs. Watt was later removed to the Evanston hospital where she is some better. Schroeder, who is at Henrotin hospital, is improving but physicians have not yet been able to take x-rays.

Arlington Lions club presents Jones $1,000 for International City

The Arlington Heights Lions presented Lion Melvin Jones, secretary-general of Lions International with a $500 check for International City at the Tuesday night meeting. A letter from Lion N. M. Lattof was read indicating that another check of over $500 had been forwarded direct to Lions International, thus making the quota of $1,000 pledged by the club.

The fund raising committee were Lions N. M. Lattof, John Randag and Alfred Jasper. The contribution, over $1,000, was raised by donations of the Arlington Heights Lions.

Lion Melvin Jones, honored guest and founder of Lions clubs, paid tribute to Lions Walter Karstens, "Bill" Reese, Dr. H. G. Dunn and Harry Knaack, all charter members of the Arlington Heights club, for their work in Lionism.

District Governor Burton Hoffman of Barrington, addressed the club and praised Arlington Heights as not only being the noisiest, but one of the best clubs in the State.

Free transportation for Public school pupils living over 1½ miles

The Board of Education of District 25, Arlington Heights, has announced that, beginning in September, free transportation will be provided for children living over 1½ miles from their school.

A contract for this transportation has been awarded the Harvel Motor Coach company of Arlington Heights, which has operated a school bus schedule privately for the past several years.

THE PROVISION requiring children to reside 1½ miles from school in order to qualify for free transportation corresponds with the distance required by state law in order for the district to qualify for partial reimbursement of the cost.

Supt. R. E. Clabaugh states that bus routes will be announced later, which will be planned to cover all outlying parts of the district, North side routes will deliver students both to the North school and to the new Junior high school adjoining the South school.

Arrangements will be made to issue school bus passes soon after school opens to all children living over 1½ miles from their school. Children living less than 1½ miles from their school may ride the bus. Their transportation should be arranged directly by the parent with the Harvel Co., telephone Arlington Heights 2. The cost of their transportation, which will be paid by the parent to Harvel, will continue at the rates approved by the Illinois State Commerce Commission for the Harvel franchise.

SCHOOL WILL OPEN Tuesday, September 5, for all the elementary and junior high school classes except kindergarten. The first kindergarten sessions will be held Monday, September 11.

Parents of all children who will be new to the schools are urged to register their children before school opens. This can be done at the superintendent's office in the South school during the summer months. Kindergarten children are required to have a complete dental and medical examination before registering. The form for these examinations can be secured by calling the superintendent's office, Arlington Heights 2142.

Kids overflow park program at Arlington

Response to the first week of organized recreation of the Arlington Heights park district has been very good. The boys' softball and baseball classes have averaged about 90 each morning with just over 100 present Tuesday of this week.

The park will sponsor teams from the midget group, ages 7-10; the intemediate group, fourth, fifth and sixth graders; a team of seventh and eighth graders; plus a Junior Legion ball team. Practice for the latter group will be every afternoon at 1:30, according to director Russ Attis.

Girls softball is also in the offing with interested girls urged to join the softball and playground club meetings Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10-11 o'clock. This is for girls nine years old and over.

TENNIS TURNOUT has been so unexpectedly large, according to director Midge Bentley, that instruction classes have been increased to six days a week. Boys nine years and under will meet at the courts Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8:45 a. m.

Girls 9-12 years of age are requested to appear Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 8:45 a. m. Girls 13 years and older will be in a separate class Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9:15 a. m.

The 9:15 class Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will be set aside for special instruction for a park tennis team. There is still room for a few more children with instruction free, of course.

HANDICRAFT classes are to report each morning at 9 a. m. at the fieldhouse.

Now in the process of being organized is competition with other parks in softball, baseball, tennis and possibly an all-around playday.

Sell-out ringside wrestling tickets; choice seats still available

The wrestling exhibition to be held June 28 under the sponsorship of the Arlington Heights Lions club, will be a "sell-out" if pre-sale of tickets is a true indication of attendance. The ringside tickets have been sold out for more than a week. However, Lion Carl Ewert, chairman of the committee in charge, reports that the $1.75 and $1.50 tickets are as good as the ringside seats.

The matches, to be held at the high school athletic field, are all "top-notch" exhibitions, with Hans Schnabel and Walter Palmer meeting in the wind-up exhibition, one hour time limit, 2 out of 3 falls; and an Australian tag team match with the team of Al Williams and Rudy Kay versus Billy Goelz and the Great Balbo. Ned Taylor will meet Joe Millich in the curtain raiser.

Tickets are on sale at Neumann's Barber Shop, Eddie's New Package Liquor Store, Arlington Bowling Lanes, Lohr's Pharmacy, Arlington Bootery and the Ben Franklin Store; all of whom have helped much in the advance sales of tickets. Frank Sesterhenn, 316 W. Hawthorne st., is the ticket sales chairman, and all requests for a supply of tickets should be made to him.

Available tickets will go on sale the night of the exhibition at the athletic field at 7:30 p. m.

Lion members are urged to report at the high school Tuesday, June 27, at 7:30 p. m. to arrange the seating and also Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. to arrange the ring side chairs.

The Lions will have as special guests at the wrestling match three members of the Chicago Bears team, Boon, Perini and Keane and three Chicago Cub players. They are Roy Smalley, Rube Walker and Bob Borkowski.

TRUCK GARDENERS' PICNIC THIS SATURDAY NIGHT

Annual picnic of the Cook county truck gardeners and farmers association is set for this Saturday night, June 24, at Nowak's grove, Cumberland avenue, between Montrose and Lawrence. Gates open at 5 p. m. with admission set at 75 cents. Music will be furnished by the Hardt Melodiers.

Means an increase of $45,000; $17,500 for land purchases

Arlington Heights village board passed an appropriation ordinance Monday night with a 1950-51 budget figure of $271,550, which is an increase of $45,000 over the 1949-50 budget of $231,270.

The major increases are funds for purchase of a new reservoir site, additional members of police department, increased salaries, squad cars, purchase of additional land for sewage treatment plant, extra tree trimming costs due to the big storm, changes in municipal building when the library moves out, revision and printing of new code, preparing revised and comprehensive village plan, library bonds ($4,000) and increased library services.

$45,000 INCREASE sounds big, but the increase in number of homes and residents require additional services on the part of the village.

A considerable part of the budget does not come out of taxes. The normal earnings of the village amount to fifty percent of the budget.

Last year the total expenditures of the village was $208,000. General tax receipts were only half that amount.

"It is just like a growing business," stated Mayor Goedke. "The more business that a store does, the more it must spend for goods to sell and for clerk hire."

One of the major requirements is $17,500 for purchase of additional land for treatment plant and water reservoir.

WAY-BACK-WHEN story this week tells about the organization of Arlington Heights 67 years ago when the constable received $27.50 a month and every male resident was required to pay a $3.00 poll tax. "At least we do not have to pay that $3.00 today," was the comment of Mayor Goedke.

The most often heard complaint about present village service is the need of a revised printed code with all of the requirements done up in "one package." The new budget provides $3,000 for that purpose.

ADDITIONAL ROOM is needed by various village departments. At present the building commissioner uses the council chamber for an office and a table for a desk.

When the library moves out, the upper floor may become the council chamber with the entire lower floor for municipal offices. At present Arlington Heights is the only village in these parts that does not provide its mayor with an office. He must use his home dining room for that purpose.

The above story only touches the financial high spots. Readers who want the details can find them on page 15 where the appropriation ordinance is published in full.

Want Ad deadline advanced to 10 a. m.

Due to the increased advertising and number of pages in the various editions of this paper the deadline for want advertisements in Paddock Publications has been necessarily advanced to 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Production schedule requires the deadline be strictly followed. The publishers ask the coperation of advertisers.

Five telephone trunk lines are available for phone calls by calling Arlington Heights 1520 or Palatine 10.

To act Monday on transfer of youth center

Every civic organization in Arlington Heights is asked to have a representative attend a special meeting of the Community Council Monday night at the field house. Action will be taken on the offer of a local organization to assume sponsorship of the Youth Center and transfer of the Youth Center fund to the new sponsor.

The term "civic" takes in every recognized organization in Arlington Heights, including religious as well as social. New organizations that have been formed the past year are entitled to a representative and the heads of any such groups are asked to either attend the Monday night meeting or send a delegate.

THE YOUTH CENTER is open to all young people of high school age, is directed by competent advisers and has provided the right kind of social life for young people within the Arlington Heights high school. The park district furnishes the quarters for the center during the school year.

Mrs. Tuttle hopes that there will be a representative attendance at the Monday night meeting. "Any organization not notified by mail, is asked to have a representative there," says the president. Notices were mailed to last known delegates.

Arlington Heights Community Council acts as a clearing house for civic activities of all local organizations. As such it has fostered many community activities, not the least of which has been the Youth Center.

Last year the Council raised nearly $4,000 for a two-year budget of the Youth Center. The actual sponsorship of the Center has been tentatively accepted by a local organization. The balance in the youth fun treasury should therefore go to the sponsor in order that it will have the "where-with-all" to operate the Youth Center.

BEFORE A CHECK for the $3,500 can be legally issued, it is necessary that the membership of the Community Council authorize the transfer. Such action was taken when the $10,000 library memorial fund was transferred.

Mrs. George N. Tuttle, president, and the other officers want the special meeting called for next Monday night to be something more than just a "rubber stamp" approval. They feel that the transfer of the fund merits the attendance of delegates from the majority of civic organizations.

No building permits without sidewalks

Arlington Village board passed an ordinance Monday night requiring home builders to agree to also construct sidewalks in front and, if on a corner, on the side of their lot. Existing walks damaged in the home construction must be replaced.

An ordinance was also passed authorizing the issuance of $80,000 library bonds and their delivery to R. S. Dickson & Co., who are the successful bidders.

These ordinances and the appropriation ordinance will be found on page 11 in the third section of this paper.

Home Show delights visitors

Arlington Heights first home show under the sponsorship of the local Chamber of Commerce more than met expectations of the businessmen and the general public.

Attendance estimates vary from three to five thousand. The 40 local merchants entering displays are happy with the reception of the visitors.

THE OPINIONS of the public are best found in these comments overheard by the roving reporter.

"It's surprising to see what we have in our home town when you get it all together like this."

"A grand show! I was amazed at the size and elaboratenss of the exhibits."

"It's so nice to meet the merchants on a friendly non-business basis."

"I never knew we could buy this at home."

"We hope you make this an annual event."

"This is a wonderful community project—good for all of us."

THE 1950 SHOW has set the pattern for future events. The 1951 show can be twice as large as the new gymnasium will be three times as large.

Some person was not willing to wait for the award of a toaster. It was left on the stage behind a curtain. When Secretary Schwengels went to get the toaster, it was gone.

Regardless of how successful the Home Show was as a promotion for those Chamber of Commerce members who had exhibits, the financial returns were disappointing. The sale of award tickets was not pushed by many business houses, who just "let George do it."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 25, will be:

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The Golden Text is:

"How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace; that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation" (Isa. 52: 7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon, the following are from the Bible:

"Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure . . . That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world; Holding forth the word of life" (Phil. 2: 12,13,15,-16).

The Lesson-Sermon includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Every day makes its demands upon us for higher proofs rather than professions of Christian power. These proofs consist solely in the destruction of sin, sickness, and death by the power of Spirit, as Jesus destroyed them. This is an element of progress, and progress is the law of God, whose law demands of us only what we can certainly fulfill . . . Beyond the frail premises of human beliefs, above the loosening grasp of creeds, the demonstration of Christian Mind-healing stands a revealed and practical Science. It is imperious throughout all ages as Christ's revelation of Truth, of Life, and of Love, which remains inviolate for every man to understand and to practice" (pp. 233, 98).

Early service at Presbyterian church

Beginning next Sunday morning, June 25, in addition to the usual 11 a. m. service, there will be a service at 8 a. m. at the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights. This service is of about 45 minutes' duration and is similar to the later service.

The Junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. Kenneth Hamming, will sing for these early services. This service is for those who especially like to worship in the cool and quiet of the morning and for those whose plans would prevent them from attending the 11 o'clock service.

The library corner

"The Reluctant Landlord" by Scott Corbett might be called an experiment in living, full of humor and human interest. It is the tale of two young people who mortgaged their souls to get a roof over their heads. It tells how the Corbetts progressed from bungling helplessness to bungling self-reliance as the landlord and landlady of the manor, how they learned to run the house, cope with the woes of landlording and keep their tenants in a state of happy resignation. You'll meet the tenants, the plumber, the handy man, and a host of other people who helped keep life interesting for the reluctant landlord, who never wanted to be the villain of the piece, but learned to love his unwelcome role.

Another experiment was tried by the Rose family, as related in the book "Room for One More" by Anna Perrott Rose. This venture was the addition of three homeless children to a family which already had three of its own. Each of the children was handicapped by fear of a world in which he had not belonged. This is the story of how Mrs. Rose and her husband laughed and loved these children into good citizens. Courage and wisdom lie in this record of a family with no nonsense but plenty of fun.

The Arlington Heights Public Library has these two books on the rental shelf, as well as a number of other new ones for summer reading.

Aids on staff of Institute for Blind

Mrs. Robert Klepper of Prospect Heights returned from Jacksonville, Ill., where she was on the staff of the Institute for Parents of the Blind, sponsored by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Parents who have blind children who are at least two years old are eligible to attend this institute which meets for a week. Those who were there last week heard prominent speakers, received workshop ideas, and were able to have their children tested by three psychologists from the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Klepper has benefited from this institute in the past and was able to assist this year as the result of her previous experience. She is also president of a group of parents of blind children in the Chicagoland area, the children being of pre-school age. On the mailing list of this group are about 120 families who have blind children in them. The group meets the first Friday of every month, except during the summer, at 30 W. Washington, in Chicago.

Any parent who has the problem of training and educating a blind child may contact Mrs. Klepper at Arlington Heights 77? and she will be glad to explain the help that this group can give and put them in contact when the meetings start again.

THE INTERESTS AND HOBBIES OF BOTH GRADE AND HIGH school children are interesting and diversified . . . Some find jobs and go in for active sports on off days . . . Others pursue a hobby that they eventually hope to make their life's work . . . Guy Andersen of Palatine is rubbing shoulders with the stars this summer at the Chevy Chase Theatre . . . He told me he chauffeured Nancy Carroll the other week, and Sunday night he dined with Gail Sondergaard at the Chez Paree . . . Special tire prices on Goodyears until July 3

Elroy Winkelman, Arlington Heights Goodyear dealer, is cooperating in the national tire sale this month which offers a new 6.00x16 Marathon tire for $9.95 with exchange of old tire.

The radio is being used to advertise this sale throughout the Chicago area and Mr. Winkelman has a large supply on hand. It is no secret that there has been a hundred percent increase in six months in the cost of raw rubber and the wise motorists will take advantage of this sale, says Mr. Winkelman.

Biscuits

Biscuits are easier to cut, and there will be less waste if the dough is sliced into squares with a sharp knife instead of cutting with a round cutter.

Freedom Festival promises 5 big nights of entertainment

Arlington Heights American Legion, Merle Guild Post No. 208, promises that the residents of Arlington Heights and nearby communities will see one of the greatest carnivals to be held for many years. The Festival will be held, as usual, on Douglas st., at Recreation Park, next to the field house.

All the usual carnival features will be bigger and better this year. There will be rides for the "kids"—both young and old—the ferris wheel, the merry-go-around, the tilt-a-whirl, and a kiddie ride. There will, of course, be the "midway," without which any carnival would be colorless; the bright lights, the barkers, refreshment stands, all manned by local Legionnaires and Women's Auxiliary members. In addition there will be many special events and first class free entertainment, part of which will be:

Des-Mount-Arl Talent Teens will entertain on the evening of June 30 and July 2, at 7:30 p. m.. These talented youngsters have given many enjoyable entertainments at hospitals throughout the state, and did a complete show at the Arlington Heights high school auditorium May 26. Those residents who attended that show will want to watch these youngsters in action again, and those not present to pack the auditorium May 26 will have a chance to see and hear some real talent.

Parachute jump Monday evening, July 3, at 7:30 p. m.. A very special piece of entertainment has been arranged, that should offer a thrill to every one, young and old. A parachute jumper will bail out of an aeroplane at only 2,000 feet over the Festival Grounds at Recreation Park, and on his way down, will unfurl an American Flag.

Patriotic celebration Tuesday afternoon, July 4, at 1:30 p. m. Every one who reads this is asked to attend, and bring family, friends and neighbors. This celebration will give all a chance to join, as REAL AMERICANS in the re-dedication, on this 174th Anniversary of American Freedom, to the real spirit of Freedom and Democracy for which our fore-fathers, our fathers, and our sons have fought and died.

This celebration will be climaxed by an address on "Freedom," by Vernon L. Nickell, Superintendent of Public Instruction, State of Illinois. Mr. Nickell is coming from Springfield to attend and speak at this celebration.

Vernon L. Nickell is well known throughout the State as an exceptionally good speaker, and for his years of work for the goal of better government. He is at present Chairman of the School Medal Award Scholarships, which is to promote better citizenship in the youth of the State and offers financial assistance for continuance of education after high school.

Spectacular Fireworks Display Tuesday night, July 4. An exceptionally good fireworks has been arranged this year. The Central Fireworks and Amusement Co., of Springfield has been engaged to build and present an outstanding show. These manufacturers have built and presented fireworks displays for the past 35 years, and those who have seen their shows at the State Fair in past years, can attest to the real entertainment offered.

Three experts from this company will work throughout July 3 and on July 4 at the festival grounds to build their displays. Since a good portion of this display will be "ground-works," much better entertainment will be enjoyed by those who are at the Festival Grounds the evening of July 4.

Navy recruiter in Arlington Tuesdays

Wesley Wichmann, GM1c, Navy recruiter, has announced that the physical standards have been reduced for enlistment in the United States Navy. For a quick and challenging way to success Wichmann urges young men to investigate the opportunities offered.

The recruiter will be at the Arlington Heights municipal building every Tuesday from 10 to 3. Recruiting office at the city hall in Elgin is open every Wednesday and Friday from 9 to 5, and Saturday from 9 to 12.

Knoeppel to be on panel at Summer Education confab

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, principal of Arlington Heights township high school, will be on a panel which will consider the topic "An Exploration of the Means of Meeting the Needs in Adult Education," at the third annual Illinois Summer Education conference to be held at the University of Illinois June 27-30.

Knoeppel is also on the nominating committee for the Illinois Adult Education Association.

EINAR J. ANDERSON, director of Maine's Adult Evening school, Des Plaines, and president of the Illinois Adult Education Ass'n, will preside at two of the fifty discussion groups which will be conducted during the conference.

Tuesday he will introduce Dr. Herbert Hunsaker, dean of Cleveland college, Western Reserve University, who will speak on "Educating Adults for Civic responsibility." Wednesday Mr. Anderson will serve as chairman of a group discussing "Relationships Among Elementary, Secondary and Adult Educators." Professor Herbert Hamlin, University of Illinois, and H. S. Zim, Manhasset Bay Schools, New York, will be the consultants.

SPECIAL SPEAKERS at the conference will include Chancellor Maynard Hutchins, University of Chicago; Professor R. Bruce Raup, Teachers College, Columbia University; President George Stoddard, University of Illinois; and Dr. T. V. Smith, former congressman from Illinois and currently professor of citizenship at Syracuse University, New York.

Fifteen state educational associations are cooperating in holding this conference at Urbana. Last year more than one thousand teachers and administrators attended.

A&P

Are you having any checkout trouble at your A&P?
When we first started our Customer Relations Department, we received more comment about delay at the checkout stands than anything else. We've worked hard since that time to give you the kind of checkout service you want.
Are there enough stands to care for all our customers promptly.
Are the checkers efficient, accurate and courteous, as they should be?
If there's anything further we can do to make this final part of your shopping trip more convenient, please write to us at:

WHY PAY AS MUCH

YOU NEVER DO AT A&P! HERE'S WHY:

A small head of lettuce isn't worth as much as a big one . . . a wilted head as much as a crisp, fresh one. That goes for all under-sized, off-grade fruits and vegetables. So A&P never includes them in its regular produce displays . . . never sells them at its regular produce prices. Expert checkers make sure of that! First of all, they inspect every shipment as it arrives and remove any items that aren't uniform in size and grade. Then . . . several times a day . . . they check the fruits and vegetables on the racks and weed out any that have become wilted or blemished. All these are promptly placed on a "Quick-Sale" table and sold at reduced prices. You pay full price only for produce that meets A&P's high standards. That means you always get full value when you shop in the Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Department of your A&P. Try it and see!

Invalids may read in bed through use of new ceiling projector

Some time ago the Arlington Heights Lions club purchased a ceiling projector for use of invalids or patients who cannot sit up to read, or handle a book themselves. This projector may be used, free of charge, by anyone in the village who needs it.

Many historical book films, as well as fiction and picture book films, are available to use in the projector. The Lions paid a good price for this equipment and would like to see it used to its fullest capacity. It projects a page of the book onto the ceiling. By merely pressing a button the following page moves into position for reading.

Doctors and nurses in Arlington Heights were recently sent a letter reminding them that this projector is available and to notify all patients who could use same, of its existence.

The projector is kept at the Arlington Heights Library and may be had simply by calling the library. A member of the Lions club will deliver the projector and explain its operation to the user.

Cut noxious weeds

(Official Notice)

According to "An Act Concerning Noxious Weeds," all property owners are required by law to destroy noxious weeds growing on their premises before they reach the seed-bearing stage. Full cooperation by every property owner and municipality with the local Thistle Commissioner will be greatly appreciated.

As a land owner you are hereby notified that you are under a legal duty to destroy all such noxious weeds on the above described premises before seed-bearing stage, in accordance with the provisions of Section 3 of the above mentioned act. The methods of treating and eradicating noxious weeds as recommended by the Department of Agriculture can be obtained from the undersigned.

Full cooperation from property owners will be necessary.

Yours truly,
LOUIS CLARK,
Commissioner of Noxious Weeds, Wheeling Township. (7-7

Don Linneman elected state FFA vice-president at recent convention

Among all the honors earned in the past by Don Linneman, president of the Future Farmers of America Chapter at Arlington Heights township high school, came another when he was elected State FFA vice-president at the recent convention. As a state officer Don is now in charge of Section Six of the state, there being one vice-president for each section.

The degree of State farmer was also conferred upon Don at this convention. (Only 2% of the 17,500 members can receive this degree in any one year).

OTHER achievements include: winner in sectional public speaking contest, and second in district contest, which covered FFA chapters for 1/5 of the entire state; attended National FFA convention in Kansas City in 1948; served as reporter, vice-president and president of the local chapter; as a member of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Ass'n he attended its national convention in Detroit in 1948; active in 4-H for seven years, being an outstanding member since 1947; attended the National 4-H Congress in 1949; served as a junior 4-H leader two years and as a senior leader one year.

Under the leadership of Don this semester and Merlin Wille last semester the Arlington FFA chapter was voted the most active in this section, competing with 16 schools.

At the convention last week, J. D. Bryson, Arlington high school ag teacher, and FFA advisor, conducted the state FFA band, composed of musical farm boys from all over the state of Illinois. This week Bryson is attending short courses and the Vo-Ag teachers' conference at Urbana.

Other local boys attending the recent convention were Herbert Reckamp and Arnold Grimm, delegates; Leroy Moellenkamp, Franklin Kile, John Hoffman and Jim Worley.

Audrey Johnson, Elroy Vogel married June 17

Baskets of white gladioli and snapdragons, together with candelabra, formed the background for the wedding of Miss Audrey Johnson and Elroy Vogel, both of Arlington Heights, at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church last Saturday at 4 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of the Arthur L. Johnsons, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vogel.

Rev. William F. Kamphenkel officiated at the service, with Fred W. Buehler at the organ. Miss Marilyn Buchholz sang "With This Ring," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was attired in ivory satin with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a long train. Her French illusion veil was long and attached to a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Buchholz, who served as maid of honor, wore a gown of pink nylon marquisette with a net yoke, a scalloped ruffle of lace and a full skirt. She also wore pink nylon gauntlets and carried yellow roses in a crescent-shape.. Her headpiece was of the same material as her dress.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Evelyn Dallmann and Miss Wilma Heim, wore gowns styled the same as the maid of honor's except that Mrs. Dallman's was green and Miss Heim's blue. Their flowers were talisman roses and pink roses, respectively.

Arlene Sundberg and Meredith Nielsen, young cousins of the bride, were flower girls. Arlene wore a yellow marquisette dress with a yellow sweetheart bonnet, while Meredith was in lavendar dress and bonnet. Both carried baskets of rose petals.

Arthur Erbe served as best man, with Arthur Johnson Jr., brother of the bride, and Elmer Hamann as ushers.

A reception for 200 guests was held at the Mt. Prospect Country club with a smorgasbord served. Mr. and Mrs. Vogel are honeymooning in Wisconsin and will be at home at 124 S. State road upon their return.

Work permits necessary for children under 16

"It is hard to make students and parents of students under 16 understand that work permits are necessary in order for any boy or girl under 16 to obtain summer jobs or jobs during the school year," said LeRoy Knoeppel, principal of the Arlington Heights high school.

The following information should clarify this situation:

1. Work permits are issued to employers, not employees (students).
2. All students under sixteen must have a work permit and most students between sixteen and eighteen need age certificates.
3. All must be secured through the school principal.
4. Work permits must be requested by the employer, they may not be issued at the parent's or student's request.
5. Work permits are not required for fourteen and fifteen year olds who do certain types of agricultural or yard work.

Steps to follow to secure a work certificate:

1. Apply at the high school for a blank which must be filled out, which includes:
   a. Statement by parents.
   b. Statement by the employer.
   c. Statement by physician.
   d. Birth certificate or baptismal certificate.
   e. Personal signature

By applying at the high school for a working permit application, all of the above may be included on the one application blank. The high school is required to issue these certificates without compensation. It will be appreciated if all parents and students will comply with the above procedure.

The high school office is open from 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon and from 1 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. daily except Saturday and Sunday for the convenience of those who want to apply for a work permit or an age certificate.

Use of Candles

During World War II candles were used for temporary light, to warm emergency food rations, and when melted, to stop tent leaks. Coach-and-carriage candles were once used in carriage lamps. Today they are used by dairies as a mild and odorless source of heat in milk wagons. They prevent milk and eggs from freezing during delivery in winter months.

Father's Day

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bates observed Father's day to the fullest extent. They began by going in to Chicago and having dinner with Mrs. Bates' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernhardt Blohm; from there drove to Downers Grove where they visited Mr. Bates' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bates, and his sister and brother-in-law; then on to Westmont, Ill. to see another sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Bates.

Harry De Berge brothe-in-law of the Fred Swinbanks spent Father's day with the family. He is from Kenosha, Wis.

Attend graduation exercises

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlomann and family attended the graduation exercises of the University of Illinois, Urbana, Sunday. Mrs. Schlomann's brother, James Keuer of Chicago, graduated and received his Bachelor of Science degree in Medicine. Because of the inclement weather the ceremony was held in the Huff gym, instead of the stadium as planned.

Birthday celebrations

Billy Andres, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Andres, celebrated his fifth birthday Thursday of last week. A group of his neighborhood friends and relatives joined him in the fun.

The Harold Witt family will have a birthday dinner in honor of Mrs. Witt's father, H. E. Price of Chicago, Thursday evening.

Visitors

The Norman Hall family recently were hosts to Miss Esther Light, who stopped off between trains enroute from Kansas City, Mo., to Baltimore, Md. Miss Catherine Hall, cousin of Mr. Hall, stopped over on her way from Indianapolis to the state of Maine.

Evening out

Entertaining

Mrs. Paul Mulvaney entertained her monthly bridge club last Thursday evening. Her guests were Mrs. Paul Doane, Mrs. Joseph Miller, Mrs. Marion Janis, Mrs. Eldon Robson, Mrs. Ruth Weiser, Mrs. George Konchar and Mrs. Elbert Ritter.

Mrs. John Morrison had a luncheon recently for a group of her former neighbors and friends from Norwood Park. They had a grand time re-living their past experiences, and chating about the new ones. Her guests were Mrs. Mary Cummings, Mrs. Louise Simpson and Mrs. Geneva Sutton, and her sister from Indianapolis.

Good fellow to draftees during World War II

Credit should be given where credit is due, even if it's several years late.

It was called to the Herald's attention this week that Eddie Labantsching, owner of Eleanor's Bake shop, Arlington Heights, was the good fellow who furnished all the bakery goods for the breakfast served to all the draftees before leaving home for service.

The act was especially appreciated because at that time articles necessary for bakery goods were mostly rationed and "Eddie" made his donations with no thought of reimbursement of valuable ration points that were used.

Stork feathers

A blue-eyed, brown-haired baby girl, named Patricia Marie, was born to the Richard F. Olstas of 933 Harvard ave., Arlington Heights, on June 9, at the St. Francis hospital in Evanston. She tipped the scales at 6 lbs. and 10½ oz. She and her mother are now home and big brother Denny, who will be three years old July 10, is having quite a time becoming acquainted with her. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Katzenberger of Des Plaines and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Olsta of Chicago.

On May 30th, a baby boy, named John Russell, Jr., weighing 7 lbs. 3 oz., came to live with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hoover, 943 N. Kennicott ave., Arlington Heights, and his brother, Dick, and sister, Diane. He was born at St. Francis hospital, Evanston. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Betz of Chicago, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Hoover of Norfolk, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Malanik of Elk Grove welcomed their fourth child, James Roy, born May 27 at Elmhurst hospital. He weighed 9 pounds, 9 ounces. He has an older brother and two sisters.

Married in Ohio

Pauline Woodward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Woodward, formerly of Akron, Ohio, but now of Arlington Heights, became the bride of Lt. William G. Aman, Jr. in 10 o'clock rites at St. Joseph's church in Suffield, Ohio Saturday. A reception in the afternoon at Congress Lake Club feted the young couple.

The bride studied at Our Lady of Elms and was graduated from Albion College. During the past year she taught at Riverdale Country School at Riverdale, N. Y. He is the son of the senior Amans of Congress Lake, Ohio, and a West Point graduate of June. In August he will report for further training at Randolph Field in Texas.

The bride's parents were present at the festivities.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford DeVore of Des Plaines have announced the engagement of their younger daughter, Phyllis Joyce, and Myron William Zinkel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zinkel of Arlington Heights.

The wedding is planned for early October.

Daniel Hanley takes Audrey Sauer as bride

Rev. William F. Kamphenke, of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, officiated at the marriage June 10 of Miss Audrey Sauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sauer, and Daniel Lee Hanley, son of the Daniel B. Hanleys. Both families are from Arlington Heights.

The 7 p. m. ceremony was performed at the church before an altar decorated with baskets of snapdragons, and each pew was tied with a white satin bow. Fred Buehler was at the organ, and a trio of the Misses Carol and Jean Faulstich and Marge Peterson sang "Always" before the ceremony and Carol sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Sauer's gown was of white organdy with imported French chantilly lace yoke, and full peplum caught up at the sides with orange blossoms. It had long sleeves, a train and a taffeta slip with a wide border of lace caught up with blue bows. The lace on the yoked peplum was sprinkled with rhinestones, and she wore crystal necklace and small drop earrings. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion and fell from a cap of shirred silk organdy.

Her bouquet was of stephanotis and white carnations, centered with a white orchid. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. John Ernst, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a dress fashioned with a white lace bodice, double tiered net full skirt over pink taffeta slip with a wide lace border and pink taffeta cummerbund sash. Her braided white net tiara was scattered with rhinestones and she carried deep red Christmas beauty roses.

The bridesmaids, Misses Carol Ann Hoffie, Carol Hanley, Ruth Stelling and Mrs. Ernest Witte, and the junior bridesmaid, Susan Ernst, wore gowns styled similar to the maid of honor's in pastel shades of pink, yellow, orchid, green and blue. They carried talisman roses. The bridesmaids also wore rhinestone necklaces, the gift of the bride, and the junior bridesmaid wore a tiny gold cross and a birthstone ring, her gifts from the bride.

The best man was Allan C. Hanley, brother of the groom, with Vernon Sauer, Daune Overton, John Ernst and Elwood Haseman as ushers.

A reception for 250 guests was held at the Morton Grove American Legion hall. The Thursday before the wedding a turkey dinner was served to the attendants at the home of the bride.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Hanley are honeymooning at the Cavalier lodge, Virginia Beach, Va., and will visit friends in the South, and tour the East Coast and Smoky mountains on their return trip. After June 26 they will be at home temporarily with the bride's parents.

The bride was entertained at a miscellaneous shower given by two of her aunts, Mrs. C. B. Bruns of Palatine and Mrs. Ralph Hoffie of Arlington Heights at the former's home April 28.

A group of co-workers from the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. held a personal shower for her May 25. Hostesses were Mrs. Amos Gurney and Miss Ruth Stelling, and the party was held at the home of Mrs. Gurney.

Clever Clover 4-H bake sale

The members of the Clever Clover 4-H club of Arlington Heights are sponsoring a bake sale this Saturday at the Public Service store, starting at 9:30 a.m.

The girls, who do their own baking, promise that there will be an extra-plentiful supply of popular coffee cakes and homemade bread.

Talent Teens receive $20 gift from fan who 'liked their show'

A check for $20 is being added to the Des-Mount-Arl Talent Teen transportation fund this week, a donation from Knaack Motor Sales. Mrs. Knaack saw the Teens perform at the Home Show last Saturday evening and was so impressed that she wanted to do something to aid their good work.

The Teens are giving a show tonight, at Elgin hospital, and will give a performance next Tuesday at Downey. They will also entertain out-of-doors for the youngsters at Children's Memorial hospital in Chicago sometime next week. They will perform during two nights of the Northwest Freedom Festival being held in Arlington June 30 to July 4.

Engagement Announced

Mrs. Esther Nebel of Palatine has announced the engagement of her daughter, Betty Jane, and Richard Leikam, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Leikam of Prairie View.

Program by Faith Bible school this Friday night

Closing exercises of its Vacation Bible school will be held at Faith Lutheran church, 431 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, Friday, at 7:30 p. m. Children of the four departments will participate in the Worship-program of recitations, hymns, and lesson demonstration.

A sound movie, "And Forbid them Not," will be portrayed and Pastor Behrens will give a brief address. Certificates of recognition will be awarded for attendance and performance of projects and lessons. The enrollment of the school was 130.

After the program in church the children of the Junior, Primary, and Beginners departments will entertain their parents and friends in the parish hall with action songs and dialogues. Articles made by the children in handicraft will be on display and can be viewed after the exercises.

The Seniors will serve as ushers and will be in charge of the exhibits. Friends and neighbors are invited to this community family night.

Vesper service

The Rev. C. Victor Brown of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, will be the Vesper speaker at the Senior High Young Peoples' conference at Druce Lake during next week.

This is a conference for high school young people from the Rockford Presbytery. There will be some 125 high school boys and girls in attendance.

Miss Barbara Mors is bride of John Wolck

Palms, ferns, baskets of mock orange blossoms, peonies and candelabra decorated the altar of the South church in Mt. Prospect to form the setting for the wedding of Miss Barbara Helen Mors, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Mors of 201 S. George St. and John G. Wolck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wolck, Rand road, Arlington Heights, Saturday at 5 p. m. with Rev. Edwin Ira Stevens officiating.

The bride wore a traditional white satin gown with fitted bodice, pleated skirt and sweetheart neckline. The veil of Chantilly lace was held in place with a tiara of simulated pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, stefanotis and English ivy and was given away by her father.

Joan Mors, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and she wore a peach taffeta fitted bodice gown with gathered skirt and cowl neckline. She wore a peach net and organdy picture hat, and carried a bouquet of maroon carnations.

The bridesmaids were Jean Wolck, sister of the groom, Florence Besander, and Nan Cowling. They were gowned identically to the maid of honor in green moire taffeta gowns. The gowns of the entire bridal party were made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Myrtle Courtney.

The bride's mother wore a yellow crepe afternoon dress with navy accessories and also a corsage of talisman roses. The groom's mother wore a pink sheer afternoon dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Best man, was Frank Wolck, Jr. brother of the groom, and ushering were Earl Zackovitch, Arthur Anderson, cousin of the groom, and Wayne Kleiner.

Buffet supper and dancing for approximately 200 guests at the V.F.W. Clubhouse in Mt. Prospect was held following the ceremony.

After a brief honeymoon, the newlyweds will be at home at 1417 W. Sunnyside Ave., Chicago.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Harriet Wolck, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Williard Toelle, Freeport; Mrs. Frederick Hanson, Barbara, Martha and Mary of Glen Ellyn; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Courtney and Jane of Elmhurst; Charles Courtney of Long Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Orhwall of Crystal Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Krenz of Berwyn.

L. A. Cameron married June 14 in Toronto

Dr. Andrew C. Lawson officiated at Timothy Eton Memorial church in Toronto, Canada, on Wednesday, June 14, when Lorne Atwood Cameron, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne A. Cameron of Lonnquist Parkway, Mt. Prospect, took as his bride Miss Margaret Aynslee MacEwen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. MacEwen of Russell, Ontario.

The East chapel was decorated with white snapdragons, stocks and carnations for the 5:30 ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of silk organza in shades of pale blue and pearl grey over powder blue with white velvet sash. Her hat was a large, white nylon straw trimmed with white velvet and her other accessories were white. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, gardenias and bouvardia.

Miss Audrey E. MacEwen of Toronto was her sister's bridesmaid. Her frock was a blue and white print with which she wore white accessories, and her flowers were pink sweetpeas and carnations. The groom was attended by his father, and Bruce Bender of Toronto was usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Granite club where Mrs. MacEwen received, attired in a gown of pink sheer crepe. She wore black accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses and sweetpeas. Mrs. Cameron wore powder blue sheer crepe, her accessories were black, and her flowers were shell pink gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of McGill university and of the University of Chicago. Mr. Cameron is an alumnus of Mount Hermon school, Mount Hermon, Mass., and is a senior at Michigan State college. He served with the Seabees in the Marianas Islands during the late war.

When the couple left for a motor trip to the Laurentians, the bride wore a light blue sharkskin suit with navy and white accessories and a gardenia corsage. Upon their return, they will reside in Lansing, Mich.

Fourth new home

Frank Leth has just completed another beautiful red brick ranch home at 503 S. Evergreen, into which he and his wife and three daughters have recently moved. Though a painting contractor by trade, this is the fourth home Mr. Leth has built in Arlington Heights. "They say one has to build three houses before he finally has one to suit," said Mr. Leth, "and this is it."

25th anniversary for Cranes

Community Camera

More than 200 relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crane of Arlington Heights visited them last Saturday to wish them well on their 25th wedding anniversary.

They came to the open house from nearby and far away, and they stayed to enjoy buffet style refreshments of cake ("the loveliest cake I ever saw," said Mrs. Crane, "was the centerpiece"), coffee, candy and nuts. Mrs. George Hauff, a niece, returned from a trip to California just in time for the party.

Besides welcoming the many guests at their home, the Cranes received telephone calls, telegrams and cards of congratulations. Mrs. Crane still spends a good part of her time admiring the beautiful flowers and silver gifts they received.

Mrs. Crane was born and raised in Arlington Heights, and Mr. Crane qualifies as a native as well, for, though he was born in Winterset, Ia., he came here as a young boy and has lived here ever since.

'Cinderella' the theme of dance program tonight

Tonight, Thursday, is a big night for the more than 50 youngsters who will perform in the Delores Eiler school of dancing recital-program at the high school.

This is far more than just a group of individual performances by the children, for it is a full production of "Cinderella," following in general the continuity of the movie. Scenes follow the traditional story with the addition of a round-the-world trip by the herald in his attempt to fit the glass slipper. In these scenes the children appear in dances of many lands.

Principal roles are being danced by Wanda Eakins, Arlene Heiss, Louise and Audrey Wahl, Donna May and Carol Waite, Barbara Smith and Kay Rask.

Mrs. Eiler has designed the costumes and will narrate the show as well as having designed the choreography. Mrs. G. M. Eakins is accompanist. Lighting is by the Village Theatre, Inc.

Tickets at 85 cents for adults and 40 cents for children, including federal tax, may be obtained at the door.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

From the looks of things, the Arlington Heights Home show last week-end exceeded just about every one's expectations.

The villagers who saw it were more than enthused — they hadn't suspected that even their progressive business men could produce THAT good a show. And the merchants themselves were overwhelmed by the tremendous turnout. Many people returned for a second or even a third visit during the three-day run.

In the early evenings and on Sunday afternoon the high school gym was a paradise for the younger generation, what with free samples (edible, too) and souvenirs galore. Many a balloon, paper gun or pin wheel found its way into a village home this past week-end, and, incidentally, created good will for its donor.

When the young fry were in bed, mom and dad had a chance to look things over, and what they saw both entertained and enlightened them. Merchants had taken the trouble to present booths that were attractive to look at and which gave lots of information.

Besides providing a show in merchandise displays, the Chamber of Commerce presented four entertainment programs for the visitors. On Friday night the madrigal singers from the high school, who presented numbers in a style uniquely their own, performed.

On Saturday the Talent Teens put on one of their performances, always full of zip and youthful entnusiasm. They chose some of their most popular acts, and the audience was responsive. The standing crowd half-filled the main floor and the balcony was jammed.

On Sunday afternoon the Village Theatre, Inc., with the show-stopping assistance of Lt. Karstens and Officers McDougall, Jahnke and Mueller of the local police force, presented "The Shooting of Dan McGrew." In the cast were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Opela, Mrs. Edward Raichert, Jack Birt, Dan Walton, Morris Guy and Paul and David Breitsprecher. The show was under the direction of Mrs. G. E. Staahl and A. D. Anderson.

Sunday evening saw the Home show brought to a successful conclusion with the professional entertainment of the Walter Hedmark quartet.

Chamber of Commerce members are feeling a little more relaxed this week, and they should be feeling mighty proud of the fine job they did in bringing the first Home show to Arlington Heights.

The 11 to 16-year-old girls who are members of the Clever Clover 4-H club are really living up to their names. This Saturday they're sponsoring a bake sale of their own at the Public Service store in Arlington Heights, from 9:30 a.m. until they sell out.

It isn't enough for them to sponsor the sale; oh, no, these young ladies are doing the baking and cooking themselves! Since most of the girls take or have taken cooking, they decided that this was an opportunity to put their skills to work and to make a little money for their organization as well.

The girls are especially proud of their home-baked bread and coffee cake and promise an extra-large supply of it will be on hand Saturday.

People are talking about

And congratulating Mrs. Geo. Tuttle on her election as president of the Community council. After two successful years as president of the Woman's club, Mrs. Tuttle is well-prepared for her new position and should lead the council on to new and greater civic accomplishment.

That 8995 figure which will soon appear on road signs near the village to note the new population here. Every one didn't guess 10,000 and some proved mighty close in their estimates.

The Atkinsons are grandparents

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Atkinson Jr., of Michigan City, Ind., are parents of a son, born on June 5. The baby has been named David Scott.

Mrs. Atkinson is the former Janet Findley of Sioux Falls, South Dakota. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Atkinson of Michigan City, Indiana, former long time residents of Arlington Heights.

Faith bake sale Saturday

The members of the Faith Lutheran church Ladies society invite their friends to visit their bake sale this Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Parish hall.

They promise there will be an abundance of cakes, coffee cakes, pies, cookies, homemade bread, potato salad and baked beans.

Marilyn Copple, Richard Johnson married

Bak photo

The First Congregational church of Des Plaines was the setting of the wedding Saturday at 5 p. m. of Miss Marilyn Copple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Copple of Palatine, formerly of Des Plaines, and Richard E. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Johnson of Park Ridge.

The church was decorated with all white flowers and candles. Mrs. Roberta Frigate sang "I Love Thee," "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer." Erwin Brunn was the organist.

Miss Copple's gown was of traditional white satin trimmed in lace and with a short train. She wore a fingertip veil and her bouquet was a gardenias and stephanotis.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Kenneth Kort of Chicago, wore a white organdy dress over light blue taffeta with a blue sash. The band on her large white hat was also blue. She carried a basket of pink carnations, larkspur and garnet roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Copple, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Harry Carlson, sister of the groom, wore gowns the same as the matron of honor's, as did the flower girl, Suzanne Copple, five-year-old sister of the bride. The ring bearer was Dennis Johnson, three-year-old nephew of the bridegroom.

S. N. Johnson Jr. served his brother as best man, and Richard Ehrhardt, Stuart Hoffman and Jack Bayer were the ushers.

The bride's mother wore a gold crepe dinner dress with a corsage of talisman roses, while Mrs. Johnson wore a light blue crepe dinner gown and a corsage of pink rosette roses.

The reception for 150 guests was held at Overlook Farm, Bartlett, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lenard Schmitz. The newlyweds are honeymooning in Florida and will live in Chicago on their return.

The bride is a graduate of Northwestern university and is employed by Tatham Laird Advertising agency in Chicago. Mr. Johnson, who graduated from UCLA, is employed in the advertising department of Hotpoint, Inc.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included relatives and friends from Fremont and Lincoln, Neb., Mission, Kans., Yellow Springs, Ohio, and Rockford.

The bride was entertained at several showers and parties before her wedding.

Up and Doing 4-H club meets at Deeke home

The fifth meeting was held at the home of Diane Deeke on June 13.

Diane Deeke began the evening's demonstrations by showing the girls how to fringe a scarf. Nancy Mahler and Marlene Kerschke followed giving talks related to Diane's demonstration.

The food demonstrations were given by Marilyn Hagenow and Adeline Kerschke. Marilyn made potato salad, and Adeline made a fresh fruit salad. The last demonstration, "How to Measure Flour," was also given by Adeline.

After the meeting games and refreshments followed.

Mrs. John Wetterman, Carol Jean Busse, Nancy Honemann, Arlene Moellenkamp, Helen Grimm and Adeline Kerschke attended the Judging School directed by Miss Florence Kimmelshue of the University of Illinois, at the Y. M. C. A. in LaGrange June 17. The girls modeled the skirts and dresses they made last year.

Trips abroad, at home, school, work to keep teachers busy during summer

Teachers in the Public grade schools and high school in Arlington Heights have a busy summer planned, with eight teachers planning trips abroad, 27 planning to attend summer schools, and others planning vacations in the States, attending work shops, working at summer camps, teaching summer school, or just staying home and taking life easy.

Two grade teachers, Kay Campbell and Florence Zwane will spend the summer in Paris, France, while Agnes Skadberg, another grade teacher, will go to Norway.

CLIFFFORD J. Gallant, language teacher at the high school, is spending two weeks in Cuba and Puerto Rico, where he will visit with Spanish speaking friends. He will then return to the States to attend Middlebury Language Schools in the beautiful Green Mountains of Vermont.

Donna Marie Volz left Tuesday for South America. She sailed from New Orleans to Virgin Islands, Rio, Santos, Monteirdeo, Buenos Aires, and will fly from there to Santiago La Poz, Lima, Bogata and Canal Zone. Miss Volz plans to be gone two months.

Mexico City, located in the heart of the "Land of Enchantment" has beckoned Margaret Firth and Doris Black, who will both spend the month of July there. Miss Firth will spend the balance of her time at home in Grand Island, Neb. and Miss Black expects to spend a week or 10 days in August in the Colorado Rockies.

PRIOR TO sailing to Honolulu, Hawaii, where Patty Potts expects to spend the summer visiting there and on various islands, she will visit in Kansas City and Los Angeles.

Gertrude O'Connor—Will stay in Arlington, but is planning short trips to Champaign and Adrian, Mich., to visit her daughters. She may attend the Library Ass'n convention in July in Cleveland, Ohio, and visit friends and relatives there.

Alvin L. Kulieke — Plans to spend most of the summer at Northwestern university working on his Master's degree. He is also planning short trips to Wisconsin, Minnesota and Indiana.

JOHN W. SCHAFF—Will attend N.E.A. convention in St. Louis, Mo., July 2-8. During the summer he will speak before curriculum workshops at Normal, DeKalb, Northwestern and University of Wisconsin.

Nelson L. Lowry—Is taking a course in Workshop in Curriculum Development at University of Illinois, June 23 to August 19.

J. D. Bryson—Attended FFA Convention at Urbana, June 12-15, where he conducted band, attended Ag. teacher's short course and conference June 19-22, and will attend the sectional FFA fair July 27-30. He expects to vacation in August in Greeley, Colo.

Kay Weisenburger — During June and July will be at home in Marshall, Mo., with short trips to Omaha, Neb., Kansas City and St. Louis. In August she will spend two weeks touring the Pacific Northwest.

JANE MAHIN—"I'm staying in Arlington, though I may attend a workshop later this summer."

J. Hookom—Plans to attend Northwestern university.

James E. Cockrum—Will take a vacation in the West.

Hazel Beverly—Will go to the N.E.A. Convention in St. Louis July 2-8, and will spend part of her vacation at Northport, Mich.

R. M. Conrad—Will spend the next six weeks working at the Arlington police station. In August he will take a trip West.

Marian L. Diehl — Plans to spend the summer in Lock Haven, Penn., where she may attend Penn. State in order to qualify for teaching in Pennsylvania.

FLORENCE R. ELFELD—Part of the summer will be spent in Wisconsin and plans for three other trips are indefinite at this time.

Hazel M. Faulkner—Expects to complete M. A. Degree at Northwestern university, June 26 to August 5. She is planning a trip to Colorado from August 5 to August 27.

Jeanne Fretz—Will be at home in Bradford, Penn., but is planning to take a few short trips during this time.

J. W. Griffith—Attend graduate school, University of Illinois, from June 13 to August 23, taking courses in Industrial Arts.

Bob Kemman—University of Utah from June to August, and will make the trip West via Albuquerque, New Mexico and Grand Canyon.

LUCILLE Kromrey —(Speech correctionist at both grade and high school) will spend the summer with her husband at Shady Trails Camp, Northport, Mich., where she will work with boys from 8 to 24 years old who have speech defects. Mr. Kromrey will be counselor and physical education director.

Nicholas Kushta—Plans to attend summer school at the University of Chicago.

Sue J. Lenard—Is attending a 9 week summer session at Medill School of Journalism, Northwestern.

Alma Leonhard—Plans to be at home in Jacksonville, Ill., for the summer.

Edith L. Lindsey—Plans are indefinite, but will probably spend some time in Bay View, Mich.

LETA McMILLIN—Will spend five weeks in Boulder, Colo., and balance of time will plan as she goes along.

Edward Paulus—Repair school equipment will take two weeks of his vacation, and four weeks will be spent at his summer cottage on Lac View Desert, Vilas County, Ill. August 13-25 will attend the summer conference workshop State Board for Vacation Education in Urbana.

Kathryn Redman—Will be at home in Oakwood, Ill., though she is planning a trip with her mother for July. Will attend the Gregg school for one week in July.

Katharine Renick—Plans have not been completed to date, but plans on "going somewhere."

M. Ethel Riordan—Has not made any summer plans to date.

FREDERICK C. Schmoyer — Summer lessons, summer band in Arlington Heights will take up his vacation period.

H. L. Selichenmyer—"I hope to watch the building of my house this summer and from time to time dab a little paint here and there."

Dorothy Wilson — Plans to spend the summer at home on the farm (saving money for her car.)

Mary S. Handlin—Will attend a summer workshop on school lunch programs.

A listing of what the high school coaches are doing will be found on the Sport's page.

You can haul more loads... more miles...for less... with Chevrolet Trucks

Take time out to talk to some Chevrolet truck users. You'll find it revealing. You'll discover that Chevrolet trucks pay their way by hauling more loads—more miles—for less! And you'll find that this extra measure of value is even more apparent in the new Chevrolet models. Definitely, they're America's first-choice trucks. Heavy-duty units feature a brand-new 105-h.p. Valve-in-Head engine with the power to pull heavy loads and conquer steep grades. They offer new Power-Jet carburetion for smoother, quicker operation. They bring you the fast, safe shifting of Chevrolet's 4-speed Synchro-Mesh transmission. But whatever your hauling requirements, Chevrolet trucks are your best bet. See them in our showroom. You'll agree.

CHEVROLET

PERFORMANCE LEADERS
Here are the most powerful Chevrolet trucks ever built! Two great Valve-in-Head engines—the Thriftmaster 92-h.p. and the new Loadmaster 105-h.p. engine have stepped-up power and performance.

PAYLOAD LEADERS

Barrington still unbeaten in New Six league

Barrington's Bronchos continue to hold down first place in the New Six Summer High School league with four straight victories. The latest triumph Tuesday night was a 6-1 win over Marengo who holds down second place with a 2-2 record. Ken Shuett hurled his second league victory, a five hitter in which he whiffed 11 batters and was never in trouble.

Palatine dropped another one-sided decision Tuesday, their third in four starts, by a count of 16-2 at Woodstock. Palatine hurlers Schrage and Zoellick could not locate the platter and walked an even dozen batters. A few hits sandwiched in between walks and a few costly errors handed Woodstock seven runs in the second and six in the third. McCannon of Woodstock was in rare form as he fanned 16 hitters and allowed but three hits. Palatine pitchers got the hits, Schrage getting two and Zoellick one. Dermont and Tryon each got two hits for Woodstock.

Rain slows up Arlington softball

Only one game was played last week due to wet grounds and rain. In that game Riviera jumped off to a 4 to 0 lead in the first inning on five walks and a triple by Augie Mayerick. Riviera got three more runs in the third inning on hits by Herb Luehring and Ed Alten and two walks.

El Rando scored one run in the second on hits by Carl Huber and R. Weide. El Rando got three runs in the third on singles by J. Geisler and Boots McDougall and a double by F. Felker. El Rando got one run in the fourth on hits by R. Weide and Bobby Haseman. Both teams went scoreless in the fifth and sixth.

El Rando tied the game in the last half of the seventh on Charley Nick's wildness and singles by E. Nelson and Rolle Schoponski. The umpire called the game at this stage due to darkness.

Doc Carr dog rated 'best'

Carrvale's Sergeant Terrence, 3 year old Irish setter owned by Dr. Herman J. Carr, Palatine, resident physician of the Arlington Park race track, was picked as the best dog in the show at the skokie Valley Kennel club annual bench competition Sunday.

It was the first best in show award ever won by this son of the famous show winner, Charles Rivers Color Sergeant. Mayor George D. Wilson of Skokie presented the trophy to the setter's owner.

When Judge Frank Downing of Towson, Md., announced the name of the winner, the overjoyed owner grabbed the dog, hugged him, and planted an ecstatic kiss on top of the setter's silken red head.

Mt. Prospect AC tops theater

Mt. Prospect Athletic club softball team won their fifth straight game last Friday night, June 16 at Palatine by an 11-7 score.

The victims were the Palatine Theatre team. Since Hasemans were defeated by Riviera the same night, the A. C. team remains the only undefeated squad in the entire league.

Mel Krueger was the winning pitcher for Mt. Prospect, the fourth of the season. He hit a homer to help his own cause. The A. C. nine scored six runs in the last of the sixth to go ahead. Don Freitag, Bob Wille, Roy Goebbert and Bill Wille each had two hits to lead the batting attack.

NEXT GAME for the Mt. Prospect team will be held Tuesday, June 27, at 9 p. m. against Haseman Truckers of Palatine. If the boys can win this one they stand a good chance of taking the first half championship.

Thursday, June 29, at 9 p. m. Mt. Prospect meets Prospect Heights.

Saturday, July 1, at 8:30 p. m., Mt. Prospect will oppose the Evanston Rams, a colored team.

Broken leg started Bill Flesch on the road to bowling fame and his 206 average in classic

by G. A. McELROY

This is the season of the year when there is little to comment about in high schools sports with only the New Six League in action. In this new summer high school sports venture Barrington's Northwest Conference Co-Champs are going right on where they left off when school officially closed. The Bronchs are undefeated in four games and lead the field by two full games with the season two fifths completed. With pitchers Dan Osinski and Ken Shuett the class of the league Coach Harmon's boys seem to be a cinch to win the regular schedule. The four high teams in the final standings July 11 will play a tournament, the site yet to be decided. The winner in the standings will get a trophy and team members will receive certificates from the Elgin Courier. The tournament winner will get a trophy from Sportsman Lodge, Elgin sporting goods store. The league, according to all reports is establishing a new high in baseball sportsmanship. We hope the record continues.

Little Tom Smith shoots his second 69 of the season

Several weeks ago in commenting about little Tom Smith's golfing on the Palatine high school team and at the Inverness Golf Club we mentioned his 69 shot at Twin Orchard in late May and mentioned a couple of 79 scores he had recorded at Inverness saying that the way he was playing a low score like that 69 could happen again. Tommie got hot again this past week end at the home club, Inverness, and shot another 69. We never would have thought it would happen to a five foot four high school sophomore, and here it happened twice.

It is much more of a feat at Inverness with its hills and 10 water holes than at Twin Orchard, but plenty tough on any course. Playing under bad weather conditions Tommie made 15 pars and three birdies for the best score at the club this year. It would appear that he had a hot putter with 21 putts for 18 holes, same as he made on his previous 69, but that was not the case. It was his six iron which he has practiced to near perfection with which he pitched so close to the pin that his one putts were in most cases very easy ones. Tom lives about 100 yards from the 9th green at Inverness and he spends about half his time practicing golf shots. This is his third year playing golf. He won the Inverness May tournament in class "B" but he was in class "A" before the tournament was very far advanced.

Tom has great golf possibilities. He still has quite a lot to learn. Not as much in actual playing, as in control of himself in remaining relaxed and unemotional under the stress of tense tournament and match play. That can come only with experience and self discipline and Tom is entering all the tournaments he can to improve himself.

Winners of weekly event: Low gross—1st 9—Mary Lou Walters; 2nd 9—Hazel Burnier.

The special event day for June will be held June 27, and is called, "If I'd a Day." The members are to make up their own foursomes and have a choice of playing whichever nine holes is preferred. The starting time will be the same as regular golf days. There will be surprise prize events. Two "If I'd a" strokes will be allowed for each hole, but only one "If I'd a" stroke from any one position.

The second ball is to be played wherever the extra stroke is used. For example, if a shot is made over the creek and goes in, and you elect to use one of the If Id' a strokes in that position and the second shot goes over, only the second shot is counted on the total score with no penalty attached.

A delicious buffet luncheon is being served at the club beginning about 12:00 noon, until 1:00 p. m. The price of the luncheon is $1.85.

All reservations must be in by June 24. All reserve alternates are asked to call Evelyn Peterson at Mt. Prospect.

Wulbecker and L-Nor gain in St. James golf

St. James Twilight Golf League standings:

Murphy Insurance	32
Wulbecker Furn. Serv.	28
L-Nor Cleaners	27½
Stefanik Dairy & Food Store	22½
Urick Landscape Serv.	18½
Prospect Hts. Pharmacy	13

Two teams who were tied for second place last week picked up a little ground on the league leading Murphy Insurance team, despite the latter's win over Urick Landscape Service.

Wulbecker Furniture Service scored the most decisive victory, a 7 to 1 win over Prospect Heights Pharmacy. Captain Dan Conway led his L-Nor Cleaners team to a six and a half to one and one-half win over Stefanik Dairy and Food.

Murphy Insurance defeated Urick Landscape Service five and one-half to two and one-half. Joe Sweeney, at present the hottest golfer in the league, was the kingpin of Murphy's attack. Sweeney tied with Bob Noesen for low gross honors each scoring a 41. Dick Smiley, playing excellent golf, won low net honors with a 43-13-30.

L-Nor's cleaning up in Rob Roy league

It's a three-way race in the Rob Roy Twilight Golf league with L'Nor Cleaners holding a slight lead over Prospect Heights Pharmacy and the red hot team of Smith and Dawson.

Tommy Rowader copped the night's low gross with a two under par 35. Brother Jim was right behind with a 37. Carl Berlin, shooting for the Lunch Bar, carded a one over par 36. Blind Bogey was won by Walt Schroeder and Paul Malchow.

The parlor piano is a favorite spot with the Flesch family. While Bill improvises on an old favorite, Mrs. Flesch, daughter Alice and son Bob smile encouragement. Story of Bill's bowling progress since "broken leg days" was released in Bowling magazine.

If it hadn't been for a broken leg, Bill Flesch, of Palatine, today might be just another bowler instead of one of the nation's best.

No bowling instructor would recommend a stock-still approach and a cane, but back in 1929 that combination started Flesch on the stardom trail. He's never been sorry about that broken leg. It has become a milestone to him, a shining example that from the worst can come good.

Bill Flesch turned 21 on Oct. 29, 1929. That also was the day his coal truck pinned him against a garage wall and broke his left leg. He hobbled around on crutches for a couple months, unable to work or bowl. But the minute he got rid of the crutches and took to a cane, he limped down to a Mt. Prospect bowling alley.

His usual race horse approach was out of the question. He stood at the foul line, balanced on his right leg. He swung a ball with his right hand; held to a cane with his left. The back swing almost upset him, but when he let go of the ball, a grin spread over his face.

For the first time in his life, he had a working hook.

"It was a hook, a real hook," Flesch recalls now. "I didn't know why then and I didn't care."

It was all very mysterious to the youngster, but there really wasn't much mystery about it. Standing still and unbalanced, he was forced to turn his right hand before releasing the ball. The result was a hook that worked viciously among the pins.

Flesch developed the hook more and more that winter. Before his accident he'd averaged 170. Two years later he had a 201. Six years later he joined Chicago's rough Classic league. He had a nationwide reputation as a very rugged competitor long before his Monarch Beers won the ABC team title in 1940 and he became national doubles champion with Buddy Bomar in 1948.

The Flesch family moved to Mt. Prospect in 1922, but Bill continued his schooling in Chicago. He attended Luther Institute for one year and finished up at Arlington Heights high school. He went out for football, baseball and basketball.

Bowling also attracted him. His brothers and sisters bowled, and his favorite uncle, Bill Rateike, was well known in kegling circles.

BUT YOUNG Bill didn't roll his first bowling ball until he was 18.

Flesch's first job was as an errand boy with a Chicago electric company. For extra money, he played drums in a dance band. Then at 20, he struck out on his own. He started an ice, coal and wood business in Mt. Prospect. It lasted two years.

The momentous broken leg was a sidelight of his ill-fated business venture.

By the time his leg had healed, his bowling style had changed. He was a hook ball bowler.

In 1932 he joined a league that rolled at Matty Faetz's place in Des Plaines, and acquired a 201 average. The hook had begun to pay off.

Flesch bowled in his first ABC tournament in 1932, totaling 1695. Since then he has rolled in 14 ABC's. His average is 197-32. His best effort was a 1908, posted in 1941.

On the bowling side, Bill chalked up the first league 300 game of his career in the Northwest Suburban Traveling loop. His second (and a 773) came in April in the Chicago Classic league.

Before the 1936 season opened, Leo Faetz captain of the Monarch Beer team offered Flesch a post on the Monarch quintet.

IN 1940 the Monarch quintet won the team title at the ABC tournament in Detroit. Faetz was captain, and other members were Flesch, Matt Faetz jr., Dexter Winsberg, William Lenzen and Harry Angel. The winning score was 3047 on games of 996, 1089, and 962. Flesch rolled 578 on 217, 201 and 160. A year later Flesch was named captain of the Monarchs.

In the 1941 ABC, Flesch and Harry Ledene finished second in the doubles after leading the field until the last three days of the tournament. They had a 1338 count and Flesch contributed 722. The winners, Bill Lee and Ray Farness of Madison, Wis., posted 1346.

In 1941 Flesch won the Illinois state singles and all-event crowns on 728 and 1920.

Monarch won the Classic league title in each of Flesch's first three years as captain, and in 1946.

In 1942 a new bowler—a fellow named Buddy Bomar—came up from Texas to join the Monarch team. Flesch teamed with him in the spring of 1944 to win the national doubles title at Chicago in a field of 36 teams. Their total for the 18 game grind was 7231, an average of just over 200. Flesch averaged 196 and Bomar 204.

Then his health started to go bad generally. In July 1945, he moved to warmer California.

A good offer from Monarch brought him back to Chicago in the summer of 1949. He got his old jobs back as captain of the bowling team and sales promotion manager.

This season Flesch averaged 206 on Tuesdays and 191 on Thursdays in the Classic loop. He's using a modified fingertip ball now, and he says he has more "stuff" than any time since 1935.

"I had my best ball that season," he recalls.

Bill and Marge live in a modest two story house in Palatine, Ill. They have two children—Alice, 14, and Bob, 12. Palatine is 30 miles from Chicago.

Myrtlewood is banner feature this Saturday

After a week end of cold rainy weather that would have done credit to late fall the sun beamed out as Arlington Park opened its 36 day racing season Monday afternoon. And about the time that Lextown from the Valley View farm of L. Younghusband of Palatine township was streaking home in the Case Ace purse a nice warm sun was blanketing the beautiful race course and adding much to the comfort of the spectators.

Opening day at Arlington produced a crowd of over 10,000 fans and a mutuel handle of $637,000. The daily double pool attracted $34,000.

RACING ON the first afternoon of the big meeting was keen and spirited and the camera had to be called into use to determine the order of finish in several races. Excellent time was hung up by the speedsters considering the muddy condition of the track and the speed displayed on opening day on the off track augurs well for some new speed marks when the track gets into condition.

Lots of new names among the horses greeted the fans as well as some of the old timers who have raced at Arlington for years.

Lots of new faces amongst the race fans were also noticeable, showing that a new crop of fans are growing up.

Many were the pleased expressions heard among the crowd on the beauties of Arlington Park and its fine setting in the great expanse of rolling farm lands and woods, its beautiful layout of lawns, flowers, lakes and hedges and its spacious and comfortable stands and its park-like paddock were the objects of many compliments from the visitors.

Fields on the opening day were well balanced and a lot of fine spirited racing was the result . . . the kind that had the fans on their feet cheering for their favorites from flag fall to finish.

Off to a good start and with some good weather now in prospect, the Arlington meeting will gain momentum and increase in interest as the meet progresses.

THE BIG STAKE program calls for about three big stake races a week which will keep the horsemen and fans on their toes throughout the entire meeting.

The big event for this week end will be the Myrtlewood handicap at six furlongs for three year olds and up for a purse of $20,000 on Saturday afternoon.

Some of the greatest sprinters in the country are stabled at Arlington Park and the Myrtlewood should be a hair raiser from start to finish.

On Wednesday, June 28, the Dick Welles Stakes at seven furlongs will be the attraction. This stake is for three year olds and is for a purse of $20,000.

Some of the aspiring candidates for the three year old championship of the year will probably show up in this event which should be one of the great races of the meeting.

There will be plenty doing every day and every week at Arlington from now until July 29 and the race fans of the Chicago area are due for plenty of thrills all during the big Arlington Park meeting.

Heights coaches scatter for the summer

Arlington Heights coaches, who have long ago become accustomed to eating in the summer as well as the winter, will not be just soaking in the sun's rays this year.

Athletic director Wallace Grace heads for Camp Kawaga, Minocqua, Wis., Saturday where he will be boys' counselor. A week's trip into Canada is included, with Wallly returning to civilization August 23.

Curtis Larsen intends to regain his football coaching figure by doing construction work this summer.

Coach Gene Bell will be spending most of the summer in and around Arlington Heights.

"TAKING UP my duties as a young father," is the way James Thon explained his summer duties at his home in Des Plaines. Other work is a possibility for Jim.

"Bus" Ormsbee will be down at the University of Illinois summer school from Friday to the middle of August.

Probably one of the most enjoyable summers will be spent by Ted Seiler. He will be touring the western states for five weeks.

Rod McLennan is this week concluding a short two week vacation at Estes Park, Colo. He'll then enroll at Northwestern university for the summer.

Russ Attis is serving the Arlington Heights park district as recreation director the entire summer.

CYO championships

Eleven events for girls are scheduled for the first time in the 19 year history of the Catholic Youth Organization's Track and Field championships which get underway at noon Saturday, June 24, in Knute Rockne Stadium, Roosevelt Road and Central avenues. The championships originally scheduled for June 18, were postponed one week on account of rain.

Five hundred boys and girls have been entered in the meet setting a new record for the annual affair.

Mac Says —

We hope, before he finishes high school, to watch him play in the state tournament. That is a big order but not too big for a lad who is willing to practice and is as interested in golf as is Tom Smith.

Charles Briggs won two tournaments and second in N. W. conference

Another Palatine lad who will team with Smith for many future low scoring rounds of golf is Charles Briggs, Palatine freshman, who this summer is working at a golf course in Wooster, Ohio, and practicing daily. Briggs won the 13-15 age class in both the Evanston and Waukegan Junior Chamber of Commerce invitational tournaments and was second in the Northwest Conference with a 76.

Palatine wins first game over Hebron

Palatine won their first New Six League game Friday by beating Hebron 2-1 in a well played game on the home diamond. Rick Jarvis held Hebron to five hits and struck out 12. He was in trouble only in the sixth when Paul Judson doubled and scored on an infield error.

Palatine got a run in the first on a double by Herbertz, an infield out and a single by Kagay. In the last of the sixth Kagay drew a pass, advanced to thiird on two infield outs and scored when Judson bobbled Rogers' grounder. Palatine got only four hits off Wiersma's slow curves. Each team made one error and both of them allowed runs to score.

Bloomer Girls plagued by injuries

The Bloomer Girl strengthened by the acquisition of infielder Kay Shinan who hails from Los Angeles, will try to regain their winning stride in the National Girls Baseball League race.

Plagued by injuries during the past few weeks the club has suffered several setbacks due to the loss of key players from time to time.

SCHEDULE for the coming week:

Thursday, June 22 — Cardinals vs Bloomer Girls—8:30 p. m.

Sunday, June 25 — Rockola vs Bloomer Girls—8:30 p. m.

Monday, June 26 — Admiral Maids vs Bloomer Girls — 8:30 p. m.

Wednesday, June 28 — Cardinals vs Bloomer Girls — 8:30 p. m. (Men's fast pitching).

Saturday, June 24—Aurora vs Chicago Pilots—8:00 p. m. (Two games).

Tuesday, June 27 — Racine, Wis. vs Chicago Pilots—8:00 p. m. (Two games).

During this stormy session of injuries Mgr. Wally Becker has managed to bear up well using makeshift lineup night after night, while the front office continues its vast search for new talent.

Oak Park	5	2
Barrington	4	3
Des Plaines	3	4
Maywood	3	4
Northbrook	1	7

Batting averages in the Illinois softball league took a dip during the week with a new leader, Northbrook's Mau taking over the top spot with a .348 mark, three points better than Barrington's Mooney. Oak Park's Dick Mundt who previously led the circuit with a .461 mark dropped out of the select group as he went hitless in six trips to the plate.

A new leader also replaced Oak Park in the standings as the Libertyville Comets won a pair of games, blanking Maywood, 8-0, and edging the Oak Park Zephyrs 7-4, on a three-run homer in the ninth inning. Other results found the Barrington Bears blanking Northbrook, 7-0, Maywood tripping Northbrook 8-5, and Oak Park coming back with a 6-3 triumph over Des Plaines.

League games pit Maywood at Oak Park on Friday and also Des Plaines at Northbrook. On Saturday Libertyville travels to Maywood while Barrington appears at Des Plaines. On Sunday Barrington is host to Libertyville. Latest statistics:

NOW IT CAN BE TOLD!

Official census figures released exclusively to Paddock Publications last week bore out the editor's contention that:

IN EVERY TOWN SERVED by Paddock Publications MORE PAPERS ARE BEING DISTRIBUTED THAN THERE ARE HOMES.

That statement is not just a thought on our part!

IT IS PROVEN by official post office sworn circulation figures.

IT IS PROVEN by official census figures, not yet released nationally, but published in Paddock Publications' seven editions last week.

HERE ARE THE FIGURES that tell the tale:

Arlington Heights	2624 homes	3095 papers
Wheeling	274 homes	285 papers
Mt. Prospect	1147 homes	1295 papers
Palatine	1158 homes	2260 papers
Total 4 towns	5203 homes	6935 papers

Library Bond Ordinance

Village of Arlington Heights

An ordinance providing for borrowing money and issuing bonds of the Village of Arlington Heights, County of Cook and State of Illinois, in the amount of $80,000.00, for providing funds for the purpose of constructing a library building and furnishing and equipping the same, and providing for the collection of a direct annual tax for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds.

WHEREAS the BOARD OF LIBRARY DIRECTORS of the Village of Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, has heretofore submitted to the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Arlington Heights, County of Cook and State of Illinois, a record of the proceedings of its Board in connection with the construction of a library building and providing furnishings and equipment therefor, and has submitted plans in connection therewith; and

WHEREAS the President and Board of Trustees of said Village, by a resolution duly adopted and approved on the 6th day of February, 1950, approved said record of proceedings of the Board of Library Directors, including the plan, estimate of cost and the determination that the bonds to be issued in the sum of $80,000.00, with interest at a rate not to exceed 4%, be payable over a period not to exceed 20 years; and

WHEREAS pursuant to the request of the Board of Library Directors the President and Board of Trustees of said Village did on the 14th day of February, 1950, adopt an ordinance calling a special election to be held in said Village of Arlington Heights on the 11th day of March, 1950, for the purpose of submitting to the legal voters of said Village the following proposition:

Shall bonds in the amount of Eighty Thousand ($80,000.00) Dollars be issued by the Village of Arlington Heights, Cook County, Illinois, for the purpose of constructing a library building, and furnishing and equipping the same, maturing $1000.00 on the first day of December of each of the years 1951 through 1958; $6000.00 on the first day of December of each of the years 1959 through 1963; and $7000.00 on the first day of December of each of the years 1964 through 1969, bearing interest at a rate of not to exceed four (4%) percent per annum?

WHEREAS said election was held and conducted in due form and manner and time as provided by law and the result of said election has been properly canvassed by the said President and Board of Trustees and it has heretofore and it is hereby determined that all legal requirements in connection with said election were duly complied with and that a majority of the legal voters of this village voting at said election voted in favor of said proposition, and that the President and Board of Trustees have been authorized to borrow the sum of $80,000.00 upon the credit of said village, and issue bonds therefor for the purpose of constructing a library building and providing furnishings and equipment therefor; and this Board has heretofore found it necessary for the purpose aforesaid to borrow said sum of $80,000.00 and issue bonds therefor;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS COUNTY OF COOK AND STATE OF ILLINOIS:

SECTION 1. That it be and it is hereby found and determined that the President and Board of Trustees have been authorized by a majority of all the votes cast on the proposition submitted at an election called and held for that purpose, to borrow the sum of $80,000.00 upon the credit of this Village, and as evidence of such indebtedness to issue bonds of this Village in that amount.

SECTION 2. That there be borrowed by, for and on behalf of the Village of Arlington Heights the sum of $80,000.00 for the purpose of constructing a library building and to provide furnishings and equipment therefor. That to evidence said loan negotiable coupon bonds of said Village be issued. Said bonds shall be designated as Library Building Bonds, be eighty (80) in number, numbered 1 to 80, inclusive, and shall be of the denomination of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($1,000.00) each, all to be dated June 1, 1950, and shall become due and payable as follows:

$1000.00 on the 1st day of December of each of the years 1951 through 1958;
$6000.00 on the 1st day of December of each of the years 1959 through 1963; and
$7000.00 on the 1st day of December of each of the years 1964 through 1969.

Said bonds shall bear interest from date at the rate of 2½% per annum, payable on the 1st day of June, 1951, and semi-annually thereafter on the 1st day of June and December of each year until paid, which interest payments to date of maturity of principal shall be evidenced by proper interest coupons attached to each bond, and maturing on the dates herein provided, and both principal and interest shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the Office of the Village Treasurer of the Village of Arlington Heights, at Arlington Heights, Illinois. The seal of said Village shall be affixed to each of said bonds, and said bonds shall be signed by the President and attested by the Clerk of said Village, and said coupons shall be signed and attested by said officials respectively by their facsimile signatures, and said officials, by the execution of said bonds, shall adopt as and for their respective proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on said coupons.

SECTION 3. That the bonds hereby authorized shall be subject to registration as to principal in the name of the holder upon the books of the Village Treasurer, such registration to be evidenced by a notation of said Village Treasurer upon the back of such bonds so registered. No bonds so registered shall be subject to transfer except upon such books and similarly noted on the back of the bond as registered, unless the last registration shall have been to bearer. Such registration of any of said bonds shall not, however, affect the negotiability of the coupons attached to said bonds, but such coupons shall continue negotiable by delivery merely notwithstanding registration of said bonds.

SECTION 4. That each of said bonds and each of the interest coupons to be thereto attached shall be in substantially the following form:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF ILLINOIS
COUNTY OF COOK
VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS
LIBRARY BUILDING BOND

No..... $1000.00

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, that the VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, in the County of Cook and State of Illinois, hereby acknowledges itself to owe, and for value received hereby promises to pay to bearer, or if this bond be registered, then to the registered holder hereof, the sum of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($1000.00), lawful money in the United States of America, on the first day of December, 19....., together with interest on said sum from the date hereof until paid, at the rate of 2½% per annum, payable on the 1st day of June, 1951, and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of June and December in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached as they severally become due and payable.

Both principal and interest are payable at the office of the Village Treasurer of the Village of Arlington Heights, at Arlington Heights, Illinois. For the prompt payment of this bond, both principal and interest as aforesaid, at maturity, the full faith, credit and resources of the Village are hereby irrevocably pledged.

This bond is one of an authorized issue of $80,000.00, numbered 1 to 80, inclusive, and is issued by said Village for the purpose of constructing a library building and providing furnishing and equipment therefor, pursuant to and in all respects in compliance with the acts of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois entitled "An Act to Authorize Cities, Villages, Incorporated Towns and Townships to Establish and Maintain Free Public Libraries and Reading Rooms," approved March 17, 1872, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and "An Act Concerning Cities, Villages, and Incorporated Towns And to Repeal of Certain Acts Therein Named," approved August 15, 1941, in force January 1, 1942, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and an ordinance duly passed by the President and Board of Trustees of said Village and submitted to and approved by the voters of said Village at an election duly called and held for that purpose.

And it is hereby certified and recited that all acts, conditions and things required by the Constitution and the laws of the State of Illinois to exist, or to be done, precedent to and in the issuance of this bond have existed and have been properly done, happened and been performed in regular and due form and time as required by law; and that the indebtedness of said Village, including this bond, does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation; and that provision has been made for the collection of a direct annual tax, in addition to all other taxes, on all the taxable property in said Village, to pay the interest hereon as the same falls due and also to pay and discharge the principal hereof at maturity.

This bond is subject to registration as to principal in the name of the holder upon the books of the Village Treasurer of said Village, such registration being noted hereon by said Treasurer, after which no transfer hereof, except upon such books and similarly noted hereon shall be valid unless the last registration shall have been to bearer. The registration of this bond will not affect the negotiability of the coupons hereto attached, which shall continue negotiable by delivery merely, notwithstanding registration hereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the said VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, by its President and Board of Trustees, has caused its corporate seal to be hereto affixed, and this bond to be signed by the President of said Village and attested by the Village Clerk and the coupons hereto attached to be signed and attested by said officials, by their respective facsimile signatures, and said officials by the execution hereof, do adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on said coupons, all as of the first day of June, 1950.

Sidewalk Ordinance

AN ORDINANCE REQUIRING THE CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR OF SIDEWALKS IN CONNECTION WITH THE CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS CONSTRUCTED PURSUANT TO BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COUNTY OF COOK AND STATE OF ILLINOIS:

SECTION 1. Any person, firm or corporation making application for a building permit shall at the time of making application for such permit, and in consideration of the issuance of such permit by the Village of Arlington Heights, agree as part of the improvement to be erected, to construct sidewalks along the front and (in cases of corner lots) along the side of said premises, as do not then have good useable sidewalks, and to replace such broken or unrepairable sections of such existing sidewalks as the Village shall designate; and to repair and patch any such sections of sidewalk which are broken or cracked, but which are repairable, whether or not such breaks and cracks occur before or after construction of said building; such sidewalks shall be built or repaired to comply with the ordinances and other requirements of the Village relating to construction of sidewalks and shall be constructed under the supervision and subject to the approval of the Village. The proper grade at which such sidewalk or sidewalks shall be constructed shall be furnished by the Village without charge to the applicant. No application for water service for such premises need be granted by the Village unless and until such sidewalk shall have been constructed or repaired and found acceptable by the Village. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to any lots within any subdivision the plat or plan for which, or covenants in the deeds for which, contemplate that no sidewalks shall or will be constructed in such subdivision.

SECTION 2. This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval and shall be known as Ordinance No. 757.

PASSED this 19th day of June, A. D. 1950.

FORREST F. DAVIS,
Village Clerk.

APPROVED this 19th day of June, A. D. 1950.

ALBERT W. GOEDKE,
President.

Notice of Special Bond Election

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Saturday, the 15th day of July, 1950, a special election will be held in and for School District Number 24, Cook County, Illinois, for the purpose of submitting to the legal voters of said School District the following propositions:

1. Shall the School Directors of District Number 24, County of Cook and State of Illinois, be authorized to construct an addition and make certain improvements to the present school building now owned and used by this District for school purposes and commonly known as the Wilson School?
2. Shall the School Directors of District Number 24, County of Cook and State of Illinois, be authorized to issue school building bonds in the amount of $53,000, bear interest at a rate not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum, payable semi-annually, be of the denomination of $1,000 each and mature on January 1 of each of the years and in the amounts as follows:
   $1,000—1953
   2,000—1954 through 1961
   4,000—1962 through 1970?
3. Shall the maximum tax rate for the educational fund of School District Number 24, Cook County, Illinois, be established at .75 per cent on full, fair cash value instead of .50 per cent, the maximum rate otherwise applicable to the next taxes to be extended?

It is estimated that the approximate amount of taxes extendable for educational purposes under the proposed tax rate is $10,775.59, and that the approximate amount of the taxes extendable for educational purposes under the existing tax rate, subject to the provisions of the Revenue Act of the State of Illinois as amended and in force and effect August 2, 1949, is $4,690.97.

4. Shall the maximum tax rate for the building fund of School District Number 24, Cook County, Illinois, be established at .25 per cent on full, fair cash value instead of .1875 per cent, the maximum rate otherwise applicable to the next taxes to be extended?

It is estimated that the approximate amount of taxes extendable for building purposes under the proposed tax rate is $3,591.86, and that the approximate amount of the taxes extendable for building purposes under the existing tax rate, subject to the provisions of the Revenue Act of the State of Illinois as amended and in force and effect August 2, 1949 is $960.15.

That for said election the entire District shall constitute one (1) voting precinct and the polling place for said special election shall be the Wilson School, located at Palatine Road near the State Road, Cook County, Illinois.

The polls at said election will be opened at twelve o'clock, Noon, and closed at seven o'clock, P. M., Daylight Saving Time, on said day.

BY ORDER OF THE SCHOOL DIRECTORS OF DISTRICT NUMBER 24, COUNTY OF COOK AND STATE OF ILLINOIS.

This notice is dated this 19th day of June, 1950.

HAROLD C. BEST,
President, School Directors of District Number 24, County of Cook and State of Illinois.

ARTHUR C. SCHROEDER,
Clerk, School Directors of District Number 24, County of Cook and State of Illinois.

'Sweetpea' is well behaved but an out and out skunk

"Sweetpea" is a mild, well-behaved house pet who minds her own business and never intentionally stirs up trouble. But sometimes "Sweetpea" causes a great deal of curiosity and, occasionally, fright.

Because "Sweetpea" is an honest-to-goodness real live skunk.

She and her four baby skunks are pets of Mr. Charles Hume of 900 Graceland ave., Des Plaines. Residents of that area have become accustomed to having a brood of skunks in the neighborhood—mainly because they know the animals have been "de-skunked" (Fluid-secreting glands removed.)

But others are apt to stare in awe and sometimes retreat when they see "Sweetpea," followed single-file by her four offspring, strolling down Graceland avenue with Mr. Hume for their daily constitution. Mr. Hume puts a small harness and leash on "Sweetpea" and the four babies, thru natural instinct, tag along behind.

Easy crabgrass control now available

TREATED: Beautiful turf because SCUTL stopped the Crabgrass. | UNTREATED: Demon Crabgrass smothering the desirable grasses

Availability of a new and revolutionary dry-applied powder which kills crabgrass but does not harm desirable lawn grasses was announced by Arlington Supply Stores, Inc., 121 E. Davis, Arlington Heights, dealers for O. M. Scott & Sons Co., lawn specialists.

Developed by Scotts Lawn Research, the herbicide eliminates spraying, hand-pulling and other bothersome methods used in the past to combat this hard-to-eradicate lawn eye-sore. The new material, called Scutl, is simply scattered over the infested area by hand or with a two-wheeled spreader. The particles of powder fasten themselves tightly to the broad crabgrass blades which absorb the chemicals. The plants wither and die.

Scutl is a green-colored, lightweight material, easy to handle and almost dustless. It does not harm pets or birds in normal usage and will not damage flowers or shrubs unless almost deliberately administered.

From experiments conducted by leading agronomists, as well as private lawn owners in the past several years, the producers of Scutl have learned that it is best applied when crabgrass is flourishing, usually in July and August. The treatments should be made before the crabgrass has an opportunity to drop the seeds that will live to plague the lawn in future years.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Millions of otherwise sensibly dressed and modest Americans from one to ninety may be found every day draping themselves over the sandy shores of some lake, river or ocean, for the most part absorbing the violet rays of the sun. The younger ones will be desporting themselves in the rolling turf, having the time of their lives.

Nothing could be finer. A good beach gives one a chance to get away from the worries and cares of everyday life, and come about as close to nature as most of us ever dare to get in broad daylight. Eve's fig leaf was probably larger than some of the bathing suits worn by our feminine bathers, and certainly not more attractive. Men, too, have ceased being shy, and strut proudly up and down the beach in little more than a breach cloth, displaying frightfully hairy legs, knobby knees and skinny frames with an air of nonchalance which falls just short of being deceiving.

There is considerable of feminine pulchritude and masculine beauty on display at the beach as well—but this is entirely restricted to the younger generation.

What is there about a sandy beach along the shore of an expanse of water which draws people so irresistibly? Not vanity alone, for behold the multitude of fat men and women, and the skinny ones, and those with bowed legs which deluge the bathing beaches every day! Not rest alone either, for many people do more exercising on the beaches than they ever do at their jobs. It is something more fundamental, perhaps going back to the days before civilization. A sort of unity with the breezes that blow, the coolness of the water and the nakedness of savagery.

In those few precious hours at the beach we are somehow able to throw off the shackles of civilization, the man made gadgets, the need for speed and worry, the nervousness of regimentation, and become for a time naked savages, basking indolently beside a primeval lake back in the stone ages. We become as the fowls of the air, the beasts of the forests, the fishes of the deep—a part of nature.

Getting back to nature on the beaches seems to be a necessary part of living, even when it involves sunburn, sand in one's clothing, and the exposure of some of our anatomical secrets which are not always beautiful to see.

GI Questions—

Questions and Answers

Question: Is it possible to obtain a GI loan for the purpose of starting a business in Canada or Mexico?

Answer: The business loan provisions of the GI Bill provide only for the purchase of property or the starting of a business enterprise with the limits of continental United States, its territories or possessions.

Question: Will the affidavit of a relative certifying to the claimant's residence within the State of Washington be accepted when filing claim for the Washington State bonus?

Answer: Yes. The administrator of the Washington State Division of Veterans Compensation has so ruled.

Question: Are any figures available to show how many veterans were in receipt of compensation and pensions from the VA as of December 31, 1949?

Answer: Yes, here they are: Civil War 18, Indian War 569, Spanish American War 95,207, World War I 498,366, World War II $1,166,443, Regular Establishment 52,218.

In the future

Here's one that really holds water—three-fourths of a cupful, in fact. It's a plastic-handled iron which can produce steam for an hour and a half without a refill. Designed with a rear heel that permits non-wrinkling reverse strokes, it also has "fade away" button nooks to simplify ironing under buttons . . . You can paint either dry or damp surfaces with a new oil-base anti-rust paint. It also works on surfaces which have rusted . . . There's no longer any need to grind out cigarette butts if you use a modern sanitary ashtray. You can snuff them out in a couple of seconds by "dunking" them in a small hole-filled plastic ball in the center of the tray . . . For parents with tots who resist the sandman every night there's now a musical lamp that "lullabies" them off to slumberland. Press a button, the music starts, and the light dims gradually.

Here Are The Facts Of Our Budget Plan And Automatic Keep-Full Service For Central Heating Plants Burning Fuel Oil:

The results of our first year of selling FUEL OIL under a BUDGET PLAN, have been very gratifying from reports of customer satisfaction.

It is the convenient way to pay for fuel oil over a period of 11 months, starting in June and ending in April of the following calendar year. This will avoid the payment of these bills when deliveries are made, or on the first of the month during the peak four or five months of the burning season, when so many other bills must be paid.

There is no extra charge for this service. In fact, you save money by selecting this BUDGET PLAN.

Our AUTOMATIC KEEP-FULL service is yours for the asking at no extra charge.

We have good reason to believe that there will be quite a number of our regular customers who will avail themselves of this BUDGET PLAN, in addition to the many new customers that have already requested information regarding it.

This is your invitation to make inquiry about this convenient money-saving plan.

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED.

At Amherst

Dean S. Woodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley S. Woodman, 401 Manawa Trail, Mount Prospect, received the bachelor of arts degree from Amherst College.

Woodman, an affiliate of Delta Kappa Epsilon, served as Secretary-Treasurer of the Pre-Law Club his junior and senior years, and won his Freshman numerals in baseball. He was graduated from the Moses Brown School, Providence, Rhode Island.

At Knox

Two Arlington Heights students were among the 174 seniors who received bachelor degrees during the 105th annual Knox college commencement exercises last week.

Recipients of bachelor of arts degrees were Donald G. Heidorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav F. Heidorn, 735 N. Chestnut, and Thomas E. Kurtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Kurtz, 909 N. Mitchell.

Heidorn, a business administration major, has served as president of Scabbard and Blade military society and captain of Knox's rifle and archery teams. He is a member of Alpha Delta journalism fraternity.

Kurtz, who received his degree magna cum laude, will attend graduate school at Princeton university under Knox's Honnold Fellowship for Graduate study. A prize scholar at Knox, Kurtz was elected to Phi Beta Kappa honorary academic fraternity in his junior year. He also received departmental honors in mathematics, his major field.

The class of 1950 was the largest graduating class in the 113 year history of the college. In addition to the 174 bachelor of arts degrees, six honorary degrees and five alumni achievement awards were presented.

At Normal

About 175 high school and college coaches from Illinois and neighboring states attended sessions of the sixth annual summer athletic coaching school at Illinois State Normal University last week.

The no-cost clinic was held at McCormick gymnasium on the Illinois State Normal university campus. Howard J. Hancock, ISNU athletic director, arranged the program.

Among those attending from this area were:

Clarence Gallagher, football and basketball coach, Northbrook high school.

Eldon Naffziger, basketball and baseball coach, Palatine high school.

J. E. Stutzman, basketball coach, Palatine high school.

In Boston

"And a feast was prepared in his presence" might well have been the theme of the dinner recently served Midshipman Patrick J. Barrett USNR, of 512 Banbury rd., Arlington Heights, and 366 other Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps midshipmen during a training cruise aboard the battleship USS Missouri.

The dinner, commemoratory of the sixth anniversary of the commissioning of the Missouri, was served while the warship was anchored at Boston, Mass. Following the meal, which was served both to the Reserve midshipmen and to the officers and crew of the Missouri liberty was granted in Boston.

The Midshipmen are participating in the annual summer training cruise, which features supervised instruction in all phases of routine and emergency operations aboard fleet units at sea. The arrival in Boston concluded the first week of a six-week training period for this group of future officers in the Naval and Marine Corps Reserve.

At Cornell

John W. Bacon, son of Mrs. John Robertson of Wolcott, N. Y., and the late Vaughn C. Bacon, was graduated from the College of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., on June 12. A member of the Varsity golf team at Cornell, Bacon was also a member of Kosmos honorary society and of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. He formerly attended Arlington Heights high school and expects to live in Mount Prospect.

At Illinois

James Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Campbell of Olive ave., Prospect Heights, received his B. S. degree at the commencement exercises held at the University of Illinois last Sunday. Jim was in the School of Commerce and majored in marketing. Because of rain, the outdoor exercises were carried to the inside, and it was 7:30 p. m. before Jim and classmates of his school received their diplomas.

His parents and his wife and other relatives attended the exercises. The junior Campbells live in Elmhurst. Jim started to work this week in the sales correspondence offices of W. W. Granger Corp. at 700 W. Adams st. He expects to be shifted around in various departments to learn more of the business.

At DeKalb

Receiving the degree, Bachelor of Science in Education, from Northern Illinois State Teachers college at its 51st Annual Commencement exercises was one from Arlington Heights. The program held on the campus island attracted 6,000 people.

The group included Rose Margy Johnston, Elk Grove rd.

At Purdue

John W. Burgeson, 320 Windsor Dr., Arlington Heights, received the degree of bachelor of science in chemical engineering along with approximately 2300 candidates for bachelor's, master's and doctor of philosophy degrees at the 94th Commencement Exercises of Purdue University Sunday, June 18, in the Hall of Music. For the second consecutive year, twin commencement exercises were made advisable by the large number in the graduating class, one program held at 10:30 a. m. (CDST) for graduates of the schools of engineering and another at 2:30 p. m. for the graduates in all other schools and curricula.

Evangelical and Reformed churches to hold outdoor services in Palatine

A large outdoor service of all Evangelical and Reformed churches will be held at the St. Paul church, Palatine, Sunday morning, June 25 at 11 a. m.

This Evangelical family retreat is being sponsored by the Churchmen's Brotherhood of the Arlington Heights Region. Rev. Edwin D. Otte, pastor of the Harmon - Union Charge will preach the sermon at this service. His subject will be "A Deepening Fellowship."

Rev. Otte is a graduate of Eden Theological Seminary of the class of 1948. Eden Theological Seminary at Webster Groves, Mo., has observed its Centennial this spring.

REV. EDWIN D. OTTE

A BASKET LUNCH will be shared on the grounds of St. Paul church, Palatine at 12:30 p. m. at which time hot coffee will be served free of charge by the host church. Ice cream and soda pop will be available on the grounds. Men of the Churchmen's Brotherhoods will be members of the various committees. Children will be supervised on the playgrounds of the Oak Street school and all cars will be parked on Slade st., and at the Public school nearby.

An outdoor musical service will be held in the afternoon at 2:30 p. m. with the participating church choirs each presenting their favorite anthem. Three anthems will be presented by the combined choirs under the direction of Miss Marjori Beu, of Elgin, and Harold P. Berg, of Palatine. The anthems by the combined choirs will be, "The Cherubim Song No. 7" by Bortniansky, "Send Out Thy Light," by Gounod, and "Open Our Eyes" by Macfarlane. Six church choirs will be combined for these special anthems.

REV. HARRY WILLMAN, of Deerfield will be liturgist at this service. In case of rain both services will be held in the Sanctuary of the St. Paul church, and the lunch will be held in the Fellowship hall. The Evangelical and Reformed churches of the Arlington Heights region are:

Wilson School Community News

The School board met last onday evening, and passed a solution for the proposed two- on addition to the school and r the sale of building bonds amount of $53,000.00 An official notice appears elsewhere in this issue. The ballot will show four issues to be voted on, namely: (1) The addition to the school, (2) Building bonds in amount of $53,000.00, (3) Increase in tax rate for the educational fund to 75c and (4) Increase in tax rate for the building fund to 25c.

The educational fund covers the teachers' salaries, gas, electric and telephone bills, janitor service, etc. The building fund covers repairs to the school and general upkeep.

A special election has been called to vote on these four issuess, and the date has been set for July 15. The polls will be open at noon and will close at 7 p.m., and the voting will take place in the Wilson school building. Voters in this district are urged to vote "yes" on all four propositions.

Following approval of the voters to erect an addition to the school for the proposed amount, the school board will be ready to consider bids on the bonds. A notice to that effect will appear in the paper at that time.

Mr. Harold Best visited his parents in Staunton, Ill., last weekend, and also went to St. Louis, returning Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wallor and son, Andy, attended a birthday party in Chicago last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Leversen.

The Home show was attended by many of the residents of this district and reports were very favorable.

The Community club will hold a meeting this Friday evening at 8 p. m. at the school. Members will discuss plans to encourage local people to vote in favor of the proposed bond issue for the school addition.

Motorists must watch speed in Wisconsin drives

Vacation bound motorists were warned today to stick to the "letter of vehicle laws" in Southern Wisconsin.

Like the strict speed and driving law enforcement, which has effectively reduced traffic deaths in Chicago during the last year, Wisconsin is tackling its growing traffic death toll by a statewide "clamp down," the Chicago Motor Club advised its 230,000 members.

This move in the summer vacation country, and particularly in Walworth county where U. S. Routes 12 and 14 pour their carefree vacation traffic into the state, is naturally unpopular with motorists the Motor Club pointed out. Numerous complaints have been filed by drivers protesting "over zealous" operations by police officers and "speed traps."

However, an investigation reported by Stuart B. Wright, general manager of the American Automobile Association Wisconsin division, has disclosed no real "speed traps." Many arrests are being made, he warns, and advises drivers to closely observe all traffic control signals, signs and road markings and adhere strictly to speed regulations.

At the last session of the Wisconsin legislature a law wasenacted restricting speeds on theopen highways of the state to 65 miles an hour during daylight hours, and 55 m. p. h. after dark. Speeds through cities, towns and villages are also greatly restricted. Motorists must keep their speed within the posted limits to keep out of trouble.

The warning advises motorists to reduce speeds in crossing the Wisconsin state line, to avoid attempting to pass other vehicles and to drive carefully.

? Questions On GI Bill ?

Question: Can a World War II veteran receive treatment from his family physician at Government expense?

Answer: Only if his disability is service connected and he does not require hospitalization. Even then the veteran must file Form 10-2827 requesting such treatment and first receive approval of the VA. The physician, druggist, or clinic-supplying treatment, medicine, bandages, syringes, etc., must also be approved by the VA. This is known as the "Home Town Plan."

Question: My father, a World War I veteran is seriously disabled and unable to work. His disabilities are not service-connected and are not compensable from any other source. Is he entitled to any pension or compensation from the government?

Answer: A veteran is considered totally disabled for pension purpose if he has a 60% degree of disability and has reached his 55th birthday, or if he has a 50% disability at 60 years of age, or a 10 per cent disability at 65—provided, that his total income does not exceed $1,000 a year if he is single or $2,500 a year if he is married or has a minor child. VA Form 8-5266 is used to apply for this type of pension.

Question: Is the Pennsylvania State Bonus still being paid?

Answer: Yes, but only three weeks remain in which to file claim for it, as the deadline date is July 1, 1950.

John Mason Brown writes essays on life with sons

John Mason Brown's column "Seeing Things" in the Saturday Review of Literature is essentially a drama column, for Mr. Brown has been a critic of the theatre for many years. The editors of the Saturday Review, however, have allowed him to choose his own topics and have not limited him to the theatre.

His aim has been, as he expressed it in a column on the personal problems of columnizing, "to attempt to . . . use a topic not as a end in itself but as a springboard to something larger . . . searching for parallels and implications suggested by a subject." He has discussed such diverse topics as the Neurenberg trials, comics, negroes in Detroit, good conversation and parental experiences.

Mr. Brown has compiled a number of these essays about himself and his two boys and published them under the title Morning Faces. The situations are amusing, encountered by most parents and appreciated by all. He tells of the nerve-wracking birthday luncheon for eight noisy boys followed by an afternoon at the Rodeo. There is the disillusioning experience of reading the bedtime story while no one listens. He tells about the son's first visit to see the father's favorite Hamlet, an educational trip to the Metropolitan to see the French tapestries, the first dance, the first long train ride. There is a hilarious chapter at the close of summer camp when the reports on the behavior of the boys reach home. Mr. Brown has a nightmare when he imagines the tables being turned and he describes the type of report his sons might receive about him if the proprietress of the summer hotel he and his wife frequent were to send the boys her opinion of their behavior.

The essays are best read separately as they were written rather than at one sitting. Too many funny situations at the same time often turn out not to be funny at all in the same way cartoons often lose their humor when a book of them is thrust upon you.

However, this is a charming little book with the chapters sometimes amusing, sometimes serious, and always thoughtfully written. It is full of those shared experiences of a father and son which add richness to family life. There is a deft touch, a fine choice of words to bring the situations to life.

Counting Our Animal Friends

Last month 150,000 United States government workers conducted the Census. They rang gin the 17th Census. They ring doorbells, ask questions, fill in the answers for about 150 million Americans. Then for several months the Census Bureau counts up these answers. In December, they report to the President, who announces the figures when he opens Congress next January.

This year is a big census-year for animals too. The regular census-takers ask farmers exactly how many birds and beasts they own. But for wild animal life, special counts and surveys are made.

We count our people every 10 years—in the spring when the weather's good before folks start on summer travels. Wild animals are usually counted in the wintertime. In that season, birds and beasts don't move about much. Instead, they gather together in central spots. Besides, there aren't so many of them in winter-time, which makes counting them a bit easier. Accordingly, our animal counts this year have already been made, beginning last December.

Animals get counted much oftener than every 10 years. Some animals we count every few years, others every year or several times a year. It depends on the type of animal, their life-span, traveling habits, and so on.

ABOUT 2000 workers count the wild animals, in forests and waters all over the land. Government officers, forest rangers, scientists, hunters, outdoor folks in general, including boys and girls as well as grownups, all help out. Private organizations of animal lovers take part. The government agency in charge is the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Counting wild animals is harder in many ways than counting people. You can't ring doorbells and ask animals questions. The census takers try to make an accurate count of animals in just a few definite areas. The figures for those areas are compared from time to time. Thus we learn if wildlife is increasing or decreasing, even if we aren't exactly sure what the total number is.

Observers watch the skies and watering-places to count birds as they come and go. Airplanes fly over herds and flocks to photograph them. Helicopters hover above hard-to-get-at places. Jet planes get a fast picture before scary birds scatter at the noise of the motor. The photographs are enlarged, and the animals counted head by head or wing by wing.

Birds are also tagged around the leg from year to year. When they're caught, or observed through binoculars, the tag gives information for counting that type of bird. One butterfly enthusiast in Texas actually brands the insects, by stamping a number on the wings (it's painless).

Fish are especially tricky to count. In lakes, sometimes, a weak electric current is sent through the water. This drives all the fish to the top for a while, where they can be classified and counted. At dams and irrigation projects, too, fish can be "rounded up" and counted off as they try to go up or down stream in certain seasons. One specially fitted ship is taking five years to count the food-fish, such as cod, on our North Atlantic coasts.

BIRD censuses in general have been going on every year since 1899, among certain organizations. These counts aren't at all complete, but they show by comparison what has been happening to our birds for 50 years. Official counting of big game began in 1937, and it is taken every few years. We keep count today of 15 different kinds of game, with deer and bear heading the list. A special census of waterfowl has been taken several times a year since 1947.

We have good reasons for counting our animals. Many large herds graze in our national forests. The owners pay rent to the government for this service. We count domestic animals, therefore, to know how much to charge the ranchers and farmers concerned.

Among wild animals, are certain harmful birds, beasts, and insects. We're on the watch to see if they're increasing, so we can plan some action against them before it's too late.

On the other hand, we can't afford to lose our valuable animals. If they're dwindling, we want to know about it, so we can protect them. Animal censuses thus help the states make hunting seasons and game laws.

Bubble Duty

Little Myrtle, back home from a friend's house, was chewing hard at some gum, which had lasted quite a long time.

Her mother suggested she had better throw it away.

"Oh, no," said Myrtle, "I borrowed it from Bessie, my very best friend, and I promised to give it back."

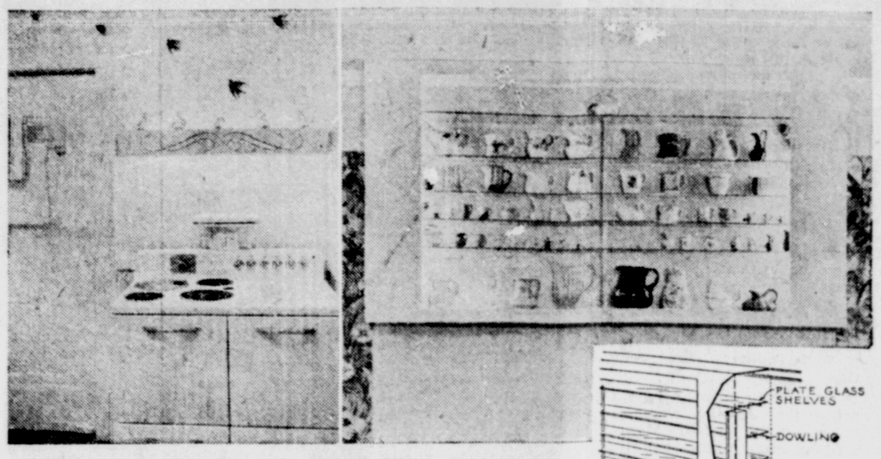
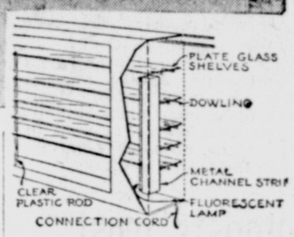
Banks announce own program for future

Preservation of the Purchasing Power of the Dollar; Cessation of Deficit Financing by the Federal Government; Revision of the Federal Revenue Act so as to encourage investment in bank and other business enterprise stocks and discontinuance of tax discrimination in different types of competitive enterprises; Common sense discretion in the assessment of personal property so as to discourage its flight from the State on assessment date; Discontinuance of use of terminology by Savings and Loan Associations which confuse the public and payment by these Associations of the same Federal Income Tax as Banks pay; Discontinuance of discrimination against State banks by National supervisory agencies; Higher standards for the development of Bank Personnel; Preservation of the Dual System of Banking; Wide distribution of the public debt by banks urging more people to purchase U. S. Savings Bonds; and refutation of need in Illinois for Federal aid to small business are all part of the enclosed Declaration of Policy adopted by the 59th Convention of the Illinois Bankers Association held in Hotel Sherman, Chicago.

Lighted shelf units that can be made at home are pretty and practical additions to any room





Basement workshops produced both of the handsome lighted shelves pictured above. The handy shelf above the range shown at the top left conceals a 40-watt fluorescent lamp which gives plenty of light for easy-seeing into pots and pans.

An attractive addition to any small dining room can be accomplished with a simple wall cabinet like the one shown on the right above. Notice how it is lighted on either side with long lines of fluorescent lights to bring out the beauty of this pitcher collection.

Proof that many handsome and practical household built-ins can be lighted successfully with a little basement workshop "know-how" is evidenced by the lighted shelf-units pictured above.

As almost any household handyman will readily admit, many of the ideas and most of the incentive come from the homemaker herself but, once they see their handiwork, male ego is fully satisfied.

Perhaps if one husband had not enjoyed both cooking and carpentry as hobbies, the kitchen range pictured on the left above would still be in darkness and the homemaker would still be stirring her shadow into each pot and pan.

FOLLOWING suggestions of General Electric residential lighting people, this handyman created a handy shelf with concealed fluorescent lighting that serves as both a decorative and functional addition to the trim red and white kitchen.

The length of the shelf is, of course, determined by the size of the range. A fluorescent lamp, complete with wired channel strip, is mounted underneath the shelf itself. The top surface of the shelf is of frosted glass to allow soft upward lighting for decorative effect.

THE LIGHTED wall cabinet on the right above grew out of a desperate effort to confine a pitcher collection which one wife had scattered through several rooms.

As you can see by the drawing on the lower right, this built-in cabinet has plate glass shelves, supported by a clear plastic rod in the center. Two 20-watt fluorescent lamps, again in wire channels, were mounted vertically at each side of the cabinet. Notice how the shelf is designed so that the lamps are completely hidden from view.

Not only does this compact wall cabinet provide a convenient and attractive storage area for the pitcher collection, but, it also dresses up an otherwise dull space between two dining room windows.

IF YOU DON'T happen to have a handyman in your household and would like to adapt these ideas for your own home, why not clip out this story with its drawings and get a local carpenter to build your shelf or cabinet for you.

A neighborhood electrical shop will have the wired channel (which includes all of the necessary auxiliary equipment and sockets, cord and switch) and almost any handyman or even an "un-handy man around the house" can install it in the shelf.

Bubble Gum

Adults are becoming a larger bubble gum market. Hitherto, it was only kids that bought the gum.

Cattle Egret

The cattle egret, unlike the rest of the heron family, does not live on water creatures. It catches insects disturbed by the feet of grazing livestock. Well known to parts of Africa and South America, it was first recorded in Australia by the National Geographic Society-Smithsonian Institution Arnhem land expedition in 1948.

Arlington Heights first village board organized sixty-seven years ago

Twenty years elapsed after the formation of the village of Palatine in 1867 before the citizens of Arlington Heights decided that they were ready for village organization under the state law. The first election was held in April 1887.

With the exception of a short period the board has met on the first Monday of each month for the past 67 years.

The minutes do not say how many spectators attended the various metings but the vote on many of them signify that there was often a "house-full."

Many of the rules adopted at the organization meeting on May 2, 1887 are still in force.

The first village boards had as much trouble getting lot owners to build the right kind of wooden sidewalks as the present board has with home developers.

The minutes written by the late Chas. Sigwalt, father of John Sigwalt, were well written, in penmanship and composition.

Four of the trustees were of German descent. They were G. A. Schmidt, C. Volz, Chas. Lorenzen and H. Weinrich. The Yankee members were Frank Davis and J. H. Harris.

Committee titles were the same as today with the addition of the water committee and a division of the original police, sanitary and license into two committees.

Originally members of the board were required to rise to their feet when addressing the chair.

The village paid $75 a year rent for Taege hall, (above Flaherty Jewelers) as a meeting place. The late Chas. S. Cutting, of Palatine, was the first village attorney.

Orders for construction of sidewalks consumed much of the time of meetings the first four years. Apparently there were no regular methods of sidewalk construction prior to the official organization of the village. Those existing were often ordered removed and constructed according to regulations. The ayes did not always win.

As long ago as 1888 the village board had reasons to meet in private session. As there was no treasurer's office in which to hold it, the hall was cleared of all spectators. (The minutes do not say if the reporter was allowed to remain).

APPOINTMENT of officers and village treasurer was the reason for the executive session. A spirited election had been held that spring and some new faces were seated around the council chamber. The appointments of the village officers were made from the floor, not by the president. After defeat (one by a tie) of two appointments for village treasurer, all members agreed on a dark horse, Frank Davis.

The street commissioner with his team was allowed 35c an hour; without team, he received 15c.

In order to save some shade trees along Evergreen in the line of a proposed sidewalk, the sidewalk was moved out ten feet.

The first tavern licenses were issued to August Kelling, M. Blum, F. P. Grote, Mrs. F. Dettmen.

When the street commissioner had trouble collecting dog licenses, suits were ordered against the owners. The dogs were still allowed to live.

SEPT. 1887 the village was advised that Dr. Farwell would rent his old store in the village for a jail at a rental of $40 a year. The matter was held over and a committee visited Palatine and found that the jail of that village was only 12x14 feet which was too small. In November it was decided that Arlington Hts. did not need a jail. Two months later a steel cage was authorized and equipped with blankets for comfort of prisoners.

The village constable was given authority to dispose of drunks any way he desired.

The first permanent sidewalk constructed was one of brick built by John Klehm on Campbell street.

The village began thinking about fire protection the same year. The purchase of a chemical engine or a hook and ladder truck was authorized on Jan. 8, 1888, but actual purchase was delayed until August 13 of that year.

With the arrival of the hook and ladder truck it was temporarily stored in a barn and the C. & N. W. requested to allow erection of building on its property for the truck.

A DELEGATION of citizens, consisting of W. C. Cork, N. H. Lee, Mrs. C. L. Clough, Mrs. Beaumont presented the following resolution on June 11, 1888:

Preamble: Believing that a Sabbath spent at home and in quiet or in a rational worship of God or in intellectual pursuits, is best for the town, the rising generation and the peace, prosperity, and perpetuity of our institutions;

Resolved that it is the sentiment of this meting that baseball playing and all amusements of like character, which disturb the quiet of the Sabbath and tends to lead the young astray, should be discontinued and that we do all in our power by word, example and vote to prevent such things in the future.

Resolved, that believing that the saloons is a great cause of crime, lawlessness, immorality, and irreligion and the disturber of the peace and quiet of the Sabbath, we respectfully request the town council of this place to enforce the state law or make an ordinance compelling every saloon keeper in the corporation not to sell or give away any spirituous malt liquor, wine or cider on the Sabbath and keep their doors closed on that day.

The resolution was referred to judiciary committee. The committee presented it to the board without recommendation at the following meeting when it was rejected.

The same meeting Trustee Teifare presented an ordinance closing saloons and other places of busines on Sunday. It was rejected.

MEMORANDUM in the minutes book gives the assessed valuation of Arlington Heights in 1900, fifty years ago, as follows: real estate $71,831; personal property $45,831; railroad $15,595. Total $133,257.

The 1949 assessed valuation is $21,923,089.

The average monthly pay roll of the village in 1889 was $250 a month. Today it is over $15,000.

ARLINGTON HTS. FIRST FIRE ENGINE HOUSE

The above picture was taken in 1894 of the fire house and firemen. In the background is the hand operated engine at the left and the hook and ladder truck, which was pulled by hand, the purchase of which is mentioned in accompanying story. The original ladders and buckets with rubber coats were transferred to an International truck when J. D. Flentie was mayor. The above wooden building was located on the present site of fire department of the village hall. Notice the fire bell. It was removed in 1913 when the first brick village hall was constructed.

Dear Jane

Did you ever try to raise a baby owl? Well, don't.

Out of sympathy for what we believed to be a baby dropped from its nest in the tree, a cage was built and "the poor little owl" was placed therein, and food brought to it. We even went as far as to telephone the biology teacher and ask his advice about the proper food to give it, and he, too, was immediately interested. "Let me know how you get along," he said.

"It's a snow owl," George informed us, as if to make the project something special. Edward dug worms and the little owl ate every one. We were delighted. It sat on the perch Ed had made within the cage, and for two days all went well, and we began to think of the future when the owl would graduate to a larger home, and would have snakes for food. I can't say I was too pleased about the prospects of this but, of course, for the present, we simply could not let the little thing be homeless and foodless.

Imagine our chagrin on the third day when we glanced up in the locust tree just a few feet away from the baby owl's cage, and saw five more owls just its size, obviously from the same nest, sitting complacently gazing at us. They seemed to be doing all right for themselves, appearing well and hearty. They made a chorus of queer sounds, from time to time, as if they wondered why their brother stayed away.

We looked within the cage and the one we had imprisoned lay limp on the floor. "We must release him right away," we all agreed. But, it was too late. He wasn't able to perch on the limb of the tree with his relatives. He fell to the ground, and in a short time was deceased. We were sad and ashamed, and now feel, quite naturally, that it is not advisable to try to raise an owl.

Our humanitarianism didn't die as a result of this incident. Oh, my no.

It seems that the man who married me has a client who has a grandson who became enamoured of hamsters. Do you know what they are? Personally I wouldn't advise you to run right out and buy some for your friends' children—they wouldn't thank you for your gift.

Well, this little boy with the hamsters must have gotten tired of them, or else his parents became exasperated. Anyway, this family arrived at the farm last Friday night, cages, hamsters and all, and Rob actually paid good money for these animals and presented them to the boys with the practical idea, of course, that they could raise them this summer and sell them to the hospitals for laboratory purposes. (It seems they have become more popular than guinea pigs).

Hamsters are nothing more than mice that someone in Syria saw feasible to glamorize. A cross between a mouse and a squirrel, I think, and quite horrid. But Rob and the boys don't agree. They really think they're very cute. So we are now in possession of ten hamsters and four cages, but this is nothing to what we can look forward to—they have a litter every 16 days, mind you. Isn't that just too, too wonderful?

Right now George is busy making new cages so that the "little beasties" will be comfortable—"they must have plenty of room and ventilation," he informs me. At the rate they multiply, we'll have the shed filled in no time. I have insisted on the shed for their permanent residence, but, God help us, they are in the playroom now. "What's wrong with that?" Edward wants to know. "Larry Newman keeps his hampsters in his bedroom, and his mother doesn't say a word about it. I bet they even sleep in his bed!" "That I will not allow in this house, my dear son," I reply.

It looks as if I'm about to be put in the dog house for my unsympathetic attitude toward hampsters. Just the same I think I know now why the parents and grandmother of the little boy were so anxious to drive all the way from Wheaton the other night with the floor of their car filled with these "sweet little things." (They knew in their hearts they wouldn't have to take them back!)

Until next week, with love,
Mary.

P. S. I'll keep you informed on developments.

● CONFIDENCE

Despite the sarcastic and often hostile things which have been said about them in past years the Arthur T. McIntosh Co., still has faith in Palatine and confidence in its future.

In fact this firm of developers seems to have more faith in Palatine and its officials than some of those officials have in themselves. This spring that company paid their entire tax bill in full at the time of the first collection and paid it without any protests. There are public officials who pay under protest and there are some who don't pay some of their taxes at all.

In paying a heavy tax bill this year the McIntosh Co. paid on a lot of property which the village board not long ago placed behind the "iron curtain" and made it impossible to develop that property by the passage of that Anti-septic ordinance.

In paying up the taxes in full on that property the McIntosh Co. showed that it had confidence in Palatine village officials to work out some sort of solution to the sewer problem that would be satisfactory to all. In paying a huge tax bill without protest the company showed that they had confidence in Palatine's public officials in all branches of government to levy taxes within the legal limits and only such taxes as those officials thought necessary to the proper conduct of their particular branch of the government.

Not all concerns or individuals had that much confidence in the local governments. If they had had there wouldn't have been the hundreds of tax protests filed that were filed.

The confidence of the McIntosh Co., in Palatine can be seen in the more than 75% increase in population in the last ten years and in the huge growth in Palatine's business district, and the large number of new businesses which have located here, a growth and an influx of business enterprises which has created wide comment throughout Chicagoland.

Yes, some people seem to have more confidence in Palatine and faith in its future than we have in ourselves.

● 4051

At last we know what the population of Palatine really is.

There have been a lot of wild guesses during the last few years but now the cat's out of the bag and the official government census figures are out and we have 4051 within the village limits.

When the editor of this newspaper dashed through town Thursday morning, he announced that the official figures would be published that afternoon.

Immediately some one proposed a pool on the figures and six of the boys tossed in a quarter and wrote down their guess.

Here were the guesses: Paul Wilson, 5250; Tony Dolatowski, 4600; Frank Meyer, 4227; E. P. Steinbrinck, 4225; the editor of this column, 3987; and Johnny Nelson, 3396. So when the official figures came out we walked off with the boys' dough.

The township outside the village has a slightly larger population than the village itself. Some of the guesses during the last few years have been close to the mark and some have been away off.

In the final analysis, the boys that play around in politics came closest in their guesses over the years, basing their estimates on the voting strength of the village and township.

The political boys have consistently given their estimates as 4,000 population for the village and 8,000 for the entire township which estimates proved plenty close to the actual figures.

● INFORMATION

"It won't be long now," said one of the boys a few days before the start of Arlington Park race meeting. "It won't be long until the tips willl be flying around over head a dime a dozen."

Yep, there will always be a whole lot of tips flying around any place that there are races going on. There are two sorts of things that fly around a race track, one is tips that start from somewhere, no one knows where, and spread through a crowd like a prairie fire.

Then there is information, and that doesn't spread and very few are "in the know" on one of these information things.

"Information" is usually well guarded and only let out to a favored few and those close friends of the source of the information.

Of course "information" often goes wrong just like the wild tips do. There is no such thing as a "sure thing" at a race track.

And you don't always have to be at a race track to get tips or an occasional bit of information. One day last week we were walking up Clark street in Chicago, when we heard a familiar hail, "Hey there, Mr. Tom" and we turned around to meet a little dwarf of a fellow whom we'd known for twenty years.

After talking for a few moments he said, "Mr. Tom, I know I'll be seeing you at Arlington Park and here's a couple of horses that are fit and ready and should win the first pop out of the box out there." And he gave the names of Beneva and Mom's Boy.

Well as it so happened those two nags didn't wait to pop out of the box at Arlington Park. They popped last week at the Lincoln Field meeting at Washington Park, a week ahead of Arlington's opening and both of them won.

That little man wasn't just giving out a wild tip, he was passing on some information, advance information and the only trouble was that it didn't do anyone any good for the local boys had their eyes on Arlington and the information horses popped out and won at Washington. And so it goes in the racing game. Just like with the fisherman, the good ones get away.

● METERS

A recent circuit court decision down in Jasper County has all the towns that have parking meters guessing.

A merchant in Newton, county seat of Jasper county, got "fed up" with the meters so he let his car stand in front of his place of business all day without feeding the meter.

The cops put a ticket on it every hour. This kept up for a week and then he took all his tickets, tore them up and tossed them to the breeze. The authorities decided to make an example of him so he was hauled in on a warrant and the police magistrate fined him. He promptly appealed to the circuit court and the circuit court judge ruled that meters were a revenue producing stunt, that the streets belonged to the people and that

WAY BACK WHEN

We are visiting up here for the summer so please change the address on my Cook Co. Herald from Foley, Ala., to 1524 Forest Ave., Wilmette, Ill, until I leave. You know we are again returning to our home in Foley, Ala.

We do enjoy news of the various places in your news list, but we assure you we deeply appreciated Dr. Best's articles of the early history of his life as a doctor, many instances of which I often heard my mother tell. My mother was Mrs. Hattie Witt Bach. She was born and raised in Wheeling.

We all enjoy the news of "Way Back When" as well as the general progress of the entire community and particularly Wheeling and Northbrook. Also the "Fence Post." I never skip any of it.

CANCER DRIVE

Editors are the busiest people with the heaviest weight of responsibility that I know. They must comb the news of the day, seeking the information that their readers need, are interested in, and should have.

You have been kind enough to take time out from this absorbing job to cooperate with both the Illinois Division, American Cancer Society, and your readers by writing and giving them the news of our 1950 Cancer Crusade and the reasons for the need of funds in this lifesaving drive.

May I thank you wholeheartedly and present to you a certificate of service which is only a small token of the gratitude which we feel for you.

CONSTITUTION

Some time ago you had a cartoon and an editorial that indicated that people should not question motives of our local officials.

At that time I looked through my files, but could not find copies of some of our present federal laws, and some proposed laws, that prove you are wrong Enclosed is a copy of S. 93 which shows by its content that at any and all times we can question any, and all, actions of our elected officials. In our own U. S. Constitution, if you will check it also states that we have that right at any and all times.

In reference to above, the actions of our Congress generally sets the precedent for all like situations. In any event federal law, supercedes local laws, whenever they are more stringent.

BOUQUETS

One of our busiest executives took the time the other day to write me an unsolicited note of commendation and approved of the AGLITE, "house organ" of the Illinois Agricultural Assn. Among other things he specifically commented on the "good, clean print job," which I knew would please you.

It is to you folks, who print the paper to which the credit goes for that part of the publication.

GRIEG PRACTICE

Even the child who protests against his music lessons may be a musical genius. To prove it, Childcraft books tells us of the Norwegian composer, Edvard Grieg, who never wanted to practice his music—but liked to make up tunes. His melodies provide us with some of our best radio listening.

ARLINGTON SEWER

Every citizen of Arlington Heights should be more or less interested in the health hazard their municipality is creating by an ineffective sewage treatment plant. I am therefor sending to Paddock Publications a copy of a letter being forwarded to the mayor and village trustees.

"Over the past three or four years I have written a number of letters to you gentlemen, have been at several of your meetings, and have contacted a number of you personally from time to time. In all that period I have never, at any time, received a letter from you stating that you were or were not going to cooperate by not increasing the load of untreated sewerage you now dump into Weller Creek.

"As you gentlemen realize the summer season is with us again and actions of the past four years have made the problem that much worse. I feel that it is only fair to notify you at this time that you must take some positive action. That is not a request, gentlemen, because I have found in the past that requests do not pay off in getting action from you gentlemen. Those of you I have met personally and come to know I feel are gentlemen in every sense of the word, and I am sure this is true of your complete body. After all you cannot help but be fellows just like me and my neighbors. That being the case, why do you persist in action that can only lead to the death of me, my family, my neighbors or some member of their families.

"You have been notified by the Cook County Board of Health several times 'that it is only a matter of time until some person or persons die from the result of pollution in Weller Creek.' I have enough faith in Dr. Piszczek and his men feel that they know what they are talking about when they go around making statements of that kind. I would like to invite you gentlemen, singly or as a group, to inspect the creek immediately below the outlet from your sewerage plant. You will find by poking sticks into the creek bottom for several miles below it that the creek is nothing more or less than an open sewer.

"I have been hesitant about bringing criminal action against you gentlemen, but in the three years that I have militantly bothered you with this problem you have done nothing that actually alleviates the condition and have increased the load in excess of what it was when I originally brought it to your attention. With this rate of 'progress' I am sure you gentlemen will feel, as I do, that my efforts have been in vain.

"I am sure that if I took an automobile and drove it at 60 or 70 mph through the streets of Arlington Heights, that I would end up in jail. The only reason for it would be that I had potentially endangered the life or well-being of some person or persons on your sidewalks and streets. If you will re-read the quotation from the Cook County Board of Health, you will find that you gentlemen would throw me in jail for doing exactly the same thing that the Health Department has told you gentlemen you are doing; however, instead of using an automobile you are employing a method which is much nastier. Both of these things are against the law, and while I have refrained to date from doing to you gentlemen what you would have done to me without question, I feel that it is only fair that I call to your attention the fact that I don't believe that it is either reasonable or just for you gentlemen to enforce laws against your neighbors with expense and inconvenience to them, yet not expect laws to be enforced against you with the consequent cost and inconvenience to you.

"For very obvious reasons I would not personally swear out criminal warrants charging you with breaking the laws of the State of Illinois, which you are breaking. Everyone knows that in a case of this type there is many a slip and I don't care to give you an opportunity to sue me for false arrest. However, I will try personally to influence persons and organizations to sign these warrants, and you may be sure that if I started on this type of venture that I will end up successfully. All that we have ever asked for is for you gentlemen to maintain the status quo until you can correct the situation and start operating legally. In other words, in the past no one has threatened criminal action based on your past violations and we felt it was enough of a step in the right direction if we could just get you to quit flounting the law on a larger scale than you already were.

"At this point it should seem very obvious to everyone that you are not going to inconvenience yourself in any way unless you are prodded into it and our prod at this time, gentlemen, is criminal action. We are very hesitant to take this action because after all you are our friends and neighbors, but at times drastic action is necessary and we feel that lacking proper cooperation we have recourse only to the criminal laws. I am sure your attorney can give you adequate information on your liability in this matter, and just in case he can't we would like to refer you to Mr. Frank Zaleski who we are sure will be able to disillusion you in case you think you are not criminally liable for your actions. The Governor and the State Sanitary Water Board confirm the instructions laid down on you by them last summer despite tremendous political pressure.

"You can be sure this was done for only one reason — they don't want to be held responsible in case of a fatality resulting from pollution of the creek. You gentlemen apparently do not have a similiar amount of intestinal fortitude or else you are not properly informed; and in either case we are offering you a nice convenient out. As long as you have a threat of criminal action hanging over your heads and as long as your lawyers inform you it is legitimate, you cannot expect to further condone breaking the law.

"There are numerous members of the Isaac Walton League and many other individuals and organizations who would very anxiously await the outcome of an action of this type, because believe me, gentlemen, you are not the only ones in the trouble you are in today and sooner or later someone is going to make a test case of it to regulate this kind of thing. I certainly hope it will not be necessary to make a test case of the officials of the Village of Arlington Heights.

"Please let me know of your decisions and actions at your earliest convenience."

Robert Himel

THE REVOLUTION

So now you realize the danger of losing our freedom — of the Socialism creeping upon us — you're awake — but what are you going to do about it?

A Revolution is called for — a Fighting Revolution. Not a revolution with guns, bayonets and A-Bombs — but a revolution of Thinking and Acting. Everyone who served in the armed forces knows it was his privilege to gripe — superior officers and non-coms told him so — but he also knows that griping never did him any good, except to let off steam. Let's not let off steam — let's build up plenty of steam and use it — not waste it on griping. We need action — a Crusade against Communism, Socialism and all the other isms except Americanism — real Americanism — a Crusade of Action. We got our Freedom on July 4th, 1776 by Action. We have kept it by Action ever since, whenever it was threatened in the 174 years since we became the United States of America. Have we become too lazy in 1950 for Action? Are we going to sit back and gripe about the way things are going — or are we going to ACT? Let's become the United People of America — united in our determination to keep Freedom and Democracy.

As Commander of Merle Guild Post No. 208, The American Legion, Arlington Heights, Illinois — and the Legion is today fighting all isms exept Americanism to the last ditch — I ask all readers, all veterans and all other lovers of Freedom to join with us in a ceremony of Rededication to the real spirit of Freedom and Democracy we haye fought so hard for in the past.

Join us on July 4th at 1:30 P.M., at Recreation Park, Arlington Heights to hear a talk on "Freedom," given by Mr. Vernon L. Nickel, Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of Illinois. This Patriotic and Rededication Celebration will be well worth your time in attending. You'll hear a Plan for Action.

Clean Milk

The dairyman's job is not only to produce clean milk, but also to cool it and protect it until it is delivered to the plant. Clean cows, clean utensils, single service strainer pads, mechanical milk coolers, hot water heaters, and a good milk house are all essential to clean milk production.

Christmas in England

Celebrating Christmas was once a crime. In the Puritan England of Oliver Cromwell any observance was illegal, even the hanging of a child's stocking, the eating of a holiday dinner, or the decorating of a festive tree. The ban was initiated by special act of Parliament in 1652, and retained until the return of "merrie" Charles II in 1660.

Oregon's State Parks

Oregon maintains 177 state park areas ranging from small waysides to areas up to 8,000 acres, protecting all types of Oregon scenic areas from the seacoast to high mountains. No entry fees are charged visitors, who are provided with picnic facilities in the larger parks.

Weekly recipe

Summer Gingerbread is a help to housewives any time because it serves so many purposes. Served in sandwiches, as muffins, or a dessert. Make your luncheon complete with this added treat.

Summer Gingerbread

½ cup butter
½ cup brown sugar (firmly packed)
½ cup molasses
2 warranted eggs
1 tsp. soda
1 tbsp. water
½ cup buttermilk
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. ginger
¼ tsp. nutmeg
¼ tsp. allspice
1½ cups all purpose flour

Method: Cream butter; add sugar and cream together; add molasses and eggs. Dissolve soda in water and add to buttermilk. Sift flour and spices together and add alternately with liquid to first mixture. Mix well. Bake in well greased 8" by 8" pan in preheated oven at 375 degrees for 35 minutes.

This recipe may be baked in muffin tins with same good results. Suggestions for serving: Cottage cheese sandwiches Top with butter cream Top with whipping cream Cover with lemon sauce.

Tales of the street

the city had no right to rent out the streets for revenue.

So down in Newton, the meter enforcement is being passed up until the city can appeal the case to the Supreme Court of the state and that court hands down a decision.

That case will be widely watched by the cities and villages which are using "the armless bandits." That decision when it comes should settle the much debated question "Are those parking meters legal?"

● MILK DAY

When the people of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin set out to put on "a day" they really do a great job.

"Milk Day" at Harvard, up there in the center of the greatest milk producing area in the world has become an annual event and last Thursday the folks up there staged their ninth annual Milk Day celebration.

Despite showers that at times resembled a young cloudburst the enthusiasm of those milk producers and their friends was undampened except by the water that fell from the skies.

A two hour parade of beautiful floats, bands and all manner of novel attractions passed through the streets of Harvard between lines of massed humanity along the curbs.

The population signs on the highways entering Harvard give the population of the city as 3100. On Milk Day that population was easily five times that and one conservative Chicago paper put the attendance at 25,000. Anyhow it was a great crowd and a great show. Streets in the residence districts were massed with cars a mile back from the parade route, highways leading into Harvard were choked with traffic.

It was a great day for northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin and the people were making the most of it. Twelve high school bands, one of 126 pieces from the Lockport Township high school enlivened things with their peppy music.

The parade was divided into classes with five entries in class A, twelve in class B, twenty-four decorated vehicles, twelve decorated bicycles, six decorated doll buggies, five pets, eighteen equestrians and ponies, four comics and twelve miscellaneous entries with the dozen high school bands sandwiched in among the paraders.

Despite the downpour at intervals everyone, paraders and spectators was in a jovial mood and getting wet didn't dampen their fun and enthusiasm a bit.

After the parade there were exhibits to see, milk to drink, the crowning of the milk day queen and a lot of other entertainment.

Yes, Milk Day is a big day up there in the "milk pail of America" where they produce the best grade of "the health drink of a nation" and where the folks really enter into the spirit of the occasion and all unite to put on a great show.

● BASEBALL

The baseball season is on full swing but rain has caused a lot of postponements and cold weather have cut down the crowds.

If conditions ever get normal some fine sport is in prospect. There just couldn't be a better game than the Haseman-Evanston game a couple of weeks ago and the Palatine girls' team showed a big improvement over last year in winning their first game from the Elmhurst girls. The girls play the Jewel Tea team of Barrington next Wednesday night and they put on a show that's worth watching.

There should be some fine ball games this summer if the weather man decides to behave.

The high school boys put up a nice game last Friday night to defeat Hebron 2-1 in the high school summer league.

● COLD WAVE

That sudden cold wave that crashed in from the north following the oppressive heat of a couple of days was just about the most vicious change in the weather that has struck this area in many a year.

Folks went from T shirts to overcoats in a matter of hours. A few hardy baseball fans huddle in the lee of the refreshment stand at the park to watch the ball games and the thermometer dropped 40 degrees, a whole season's drop, in a few hours.

But summer is officially here now and we've had the year's longest day. Maybe some seasonable weather will come along and then again maybe with the days growing shorter an early fall will set in . . . the blackbirds are flocking.

June brides can thank Juno for orange blossoms

Few June brides realize it, but the custom of wearing orange blossoms had its inspiration in Roman mythology. So says Don Fowler, researcher for the Davey Tree Expert Co. and authority on tree legends.

Juno gets the credit, but Jupiter should be scored for the assist. Just before Jupiter tied the knot with his goddess, he handed her an orange. No doubt orange blossoms came into vogue when blushing brides decided it's more convenient to wear the flower than the fruit.

In many countries, according to the tree expert dreams of orange blossoms are deemed highly significant. Visions of the blossoms mean you'll hear news of a wedding; gathering or wearing them, your own marriage will soon take place, or if you're already married, Dame Fortune is destined to smile on you.

In recent years, the orange blossom has found general favor in Great Britain. But this tight little isle previously considered myrtle the bridal flower. Princess Elizabeth is said to have selected myrtle for her royal wedding march.

Balkan custom calls for planting of two trees before the home of the newly wedded pair. Colonial Americans had a like idea. Only it was customary for the bride herself to supply the tree. The famous bridal elm in Wethersfield, Conn., is one of these. The sapling was purchased from an Indian by Sarah Saltonstall following her marriage to Daniel Buck. The young bride planted it herself by the well alongside the house.

Civil service examinations

It was announced by the Recorder, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, that applications are being accepted from persons interested in securing permanent Federal employment in the positions of Carpenter and Plumber. These positions pay entrance salaries of $1.57 per hour. Additional compensation is provided for authorized overtime worked in excess of the 40 hour week.

A written test is not required. Applicants will be rated on information shown in their applications as to amount and kind of experience.

The Executive Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the Detroit District Corps of Engineers, 1001 Cadillac Tower, Detroit 26, Mich., announced that applications will be accepted at that office until July 31, 1950, for positions as Construction Inspectors in the following fields; Concrete Mixing Plant; Concrete Placement; Dredging; Drilling and Grouting; Excavation and Embankment; General; Rivers, Harbors and Waterways Construction; Piling; and Boring.

The salaries range from $2650 to $3825 a year. A written test is not required.

Barrington VFW to feature strong man Saturday, July 1

From Ripley's Believe it or not

CAPT. FRANK RUSSELL will break railroad spikes with his bare hands and will receive a blow from a sledge hammer while lying on a bed of spikes with a huge rock on his chest. He will perform other amazing feats of strength at the Barrington VFW carnival Saturday night, July 1. The carnival starts June 28.

ISES Offices urge jobs for students

With more than 1000 students looking for summer jobs in this area, local employers were asked by Miss Florence A. Hartigan, manager of the Illinois State Employment Service office at 5306 W. Lawrence ave. to survey their plants, stores and offices to find summer-time opportunities for the students.

After the surveys are completed, Manager Hartigan urged that all job openings be listed with the I.S.E.S. office since many of the students have already filed applications at that office and their skills and aptitudes have been classified and listed. She said that the boys and girls want to work in almost every kind of clerical, semi-skilled jobs, and/or unskilled, and some have had technical training which may be applied to their jobs.

Miss Hartigan suggested that production slow-downs caused by employees on vacation may be averted by hiring students to fill their positions until their return. She also asked farmers, who are approaching their heaviest work season, to use student labor whenever possible.

"These boys and girls are anxious to go to work," Miss Hartigan stated. "They want to be able to pay their own way with their own spending money and many of them want to finance ther future education. Business men in this community can help them do it by giving them the opportunity to earn and learn through practical experience.

"By placing all job openings with the Employment Service now," she continued, "employers will have the pick of energetic young workers available to them."

Key West

Key West, Florida, was originally called Cayo Hueso, or Bone Key, by the Spaniards because of the large number of Indian skeletons they found there. According to tradition, early English sailors habitually mispronounced these two Spanish words "Key West" until that new name stuck.

Colt Feed

Young foals will begin eating grain when about four weeks of age. Grain fed to them will save on milk and keep the mare in better flesh. A mixture of corn and oats, equal parts by weight, on pasture, makes a good ration. Oats and pasture also make a good ration for them.

Socrates Had the Idea

In Plato's Phaedo, published 399 B.C., is the earliest written record of the idea of a round earth. It is credited to Socrates, who died that same year.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. What is the best acknowledgment to an introduction one can make?

A. The simplest, and always correct, thing to say is, "How do you do." "I am very glad to meet you," or "I am delighted to meet you" may also be used. But never say, "Pleased to meet you."

Q. Isn't it proper for the bridegroom and his best man to be dressed alike?

A. Yes, as nearly as possible—with the exception of the bridegroom's boutonniere, which should be different.

Q. How is the spoon held when eating soup, pointed toward the mouth or sidewise?

A. Regardless of the kind of food that is being eaten, the spoon is used in but one position—its side parallel to the lips.

Q. Why is a man supposed to tip his hat to a woman?

A. The origin of the custom has not been fully established. Some authorities attribute it to a medieval custom which required that a knight lift the visor of his helmet in the presence of a lady.

Q. Should an usher at a wedding offer his arm to a woman guest even if he is not acquainted with her?

A. No they should be placed on the service plates.

Q. When a ball is lost on the golf course, who decides when to signal following players to go on through?

A. Any player in your set who sees that others have come up behind and are waiting may signal them through. The others in your set should then refrain from play until they have passed through and are out of reach.

Q. Is it proper to take two or three different kinds of food on the fork for one mouthful?

A. Never. Control your patience by taking only one morsel of one kind of food on the fork at a time.

Q. May a man leave a woman companion during an intermission at a theater?

A. It is more courteous not to do so, unless there is someone else to remain with her while he is absent.

Q. When writing a social letter on the typewriter, should one type one's name?

A. It is not good form to write a social letter on the typewriter. If, however, one has done so, it is not permissible to type the signature unless it is placed under the written signature—which is done sometimes when handwriting is illegible.

Du Mont telecruiser to show local fans on screen at Prospect Hts. Appliances

Allen B. DuMont Laboratories, Inc., has announced that the Telecruiser, a complete mobile television studio would be at Prospect Heights Tuesday, June 27 from 7-9:30 p. m. for a special video demonstration as part of a nation-wide tour the unit is now making.

Max Rhodes of Prospect Hts. Appliances disclosed that the Telecruiser, which contains more than $100,000 in electronic equipment, would enable local residents to see themselves in television as part of the demonstration.

The Telecruiser is the most advanced vehicle of its kind thus far developed. Mounting a triple image orthicon camera chain, the Telecruiser virtually duplicates actual studio operating conditions in every respect and will give a good insight into the intricacies of sight and sound transmission.

Plans call for the Telecruiser to be parked in Prospect Heights at Prospect Heights Appliances and a closed circuit camera chain set up to televise local personalities and members of the crowd. They in turn will be able to see themselves on telvision receiver which will be installed near the Telecruiser and in the store.

The entire mobile unit was especially developed for television field operations by the technical staff of Allen B. Du Mont Laboratories, Inc., under the guidance of Willis I. McCord, manager of the Television Specialties Department. Everyone is invited.

Bits o' business

U. S. auto makers racked up another new production record in the first six days of this month. The industry turned out an estimated 191,585 units for the week. The previous high was 179,063 . . . Don't be surprised if shoe prices step up another notch. With rising leather costs putting the pinch on manufacturers' profit margins, many producers think a price increase is inevitable unless the squeeze is removed soon . . . A sample survey of last year's individual income tax returns revealed that more than a fourth of the country's 52,000,000 taxpayers had errors on their blanks. The mistakes—mostly in favor of those filing, of course—totaled approximately $1,500,000,000 . . . Longer workweeks in the metal-working machinery, home-building and automotive industries helped to push factory workers' wages up to a new peak in April: $56.69 a week average for the durable goods industries.

have your own ALL-CROP harvest

SEED can rightfully be spelled with a dollar sign this year . . . dollars you can harvest.

Enough grass, alfalfa, clover and other legume seed is needed to plant 51 million acres, replacing soil-depleting crops. Present seed production is scarcely half sufficient.

A home-owned ALL-CROP Harvester can help you cash in with these high-pay crops as well as with grains, beans, sorghums. Its full width, rubber-shielded bar cylinder reduces crackage. Quiet, V-belt drives, over-size threshing rear, precision wind valves, and Air Blast Separation, enable the All-Crop to harvest over 100 crops. They range from feathery grass seeds to marble-size beans.

Make it an ALL-CROP harvest this year.

The Allis-Chalmers WD Tractor provides the last word in harvest control. Auxiliary hand clutch stops tractor without interrupting power flow to harvester.

Hay cutting times recommended here

You'll get the largest yields of high-quality alfalfa in central Illinois by cutting the first crop early in June. For red clover, you'll have the highest feed value by cutting the first crop when it's one-half to three-quarters in bloom.

These recommended cutting times came today from David Heusinkveld, federal agronomist in the Illinois College of Agriculture.

These dates will be a little earlier in southern Illinois and somewhat later in northern sections.

Heusinkveld says alfalfa gives the largest amount of hay if cut when it's one-tenth to one-half in bloom. But the amount of protein per acre goes down gradually during this period. So the first week in June is recommended for first-cutting alfalfa to get both the largest crop and the most protein.

Second-crop alfalfa should be cut the second week in July, and the third not later than September 10.

If you have mixed hay, and it contains plenty of alfalfa or clover, cut it when you'd normally cut the legumes. If the mixed hay has lots of grass in it, hold off on cutting until about the right time for cutting the grasses. But don't wait too long. Heusinkveld says mature timothy is very low in feed value—about the same as straw.

Mite Control

For controlling mites in the chicken house, 5 per cent DDT in kerosene spray applied to cracks and crevices around the nests and roosts is very effective.

Food Preservation Is a Woman's Task, and Science Lends a Hand

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

The preservation of food on the farm usually is a woman's job. Fact of the matter is, she inherited the job long before there were any farms. If she wants to blame anybody for her present assignment, she can look to the first cave man.

FREEZER—adds to fun on the farm on hot days.

Small wonder, therefore, that she has had long experience in the food preservation department. Over the years she tried many different methods from smoking and pickling meat to drying fruit and vegetables. In more recent times, farm women kept cans of milk and cream cool by lowering them into the well. Other food was kept in dark basements, storm, root or rock cellars—call them what you will. All added up to inconvenient and uncertain "refrigerators."

It was a great day, therefore, when electric power lines began reaching farm areas. For, among other things, they provided the juice needed to operate electric refrigerators and farm and home freezers. Hardly an electrified farm home today is without a modern refrigerator or a freezer. And many have both. They come in various sizes, with different makes offering different advantages.

Many of the new electric refrigerators have separate frozen food storage compartments. Such super-cold compartments also increase the flexibility of the units in supplying increased freezing capacity for ice cubes and for the frozen storage of left-overs and fresh food.

Freezers are of two types—chest and upright. Chest type freezers have lids in the top of the cabinet. The upright type resembles, outwardly at least, the household refrigerator. The kind you get should depend upon your needs and the space available.

Fruits and vegtables should be prepared for the freezer when they are just right for eating. The correct preparation of all foods is highly important. Your electrical dealer, power supplier or extension service can provide you with information on this subject. Be certain that all food packages are wrapped and sealed in moisture-vapor proof materials. Then get them into the freezer immediately. If this can't be done for some reason, store the food in the refrigerator—but get it into the freezer at the first opportunity.

Strong, airtight silo needed for legume silage

A University of Illinois dairyman today gave two reminders to farmers who are going to put up legume silage.

C. S. Rhode says, first, to be sure your silo is airtight with smooth walls; and second, to check the reinforcement at the bottom of the silo to be sure it's strong enough.

You must keep air out of silage; otherwise it molds. If for any reason the walls or doors leak air, make the needed repairs before silo-filling time.

You need stronger reinforcement, too, for legume silage, because it exerts about 19 pounds pressure to the square foot compared with about 11 pounds for corn silage.

AS FOR PUTTING up legume silage, better use a preservative to get first-class silage. Molasses is one of the best—about 60 to 90 pounds per ton of green forage. Corn and cob meal is another good one — 150 to 200 pounds per ton of green hay. To insure thorough mixing, add the preservative at the cutter or the base of the blower.

Cut the legumes at the hay stage, and wilt the crop slightly—to an average moisture content of about 65 to 70 per cent. Usually it takes no longer than one or two hours to reach this condition. But this may vary from a few minutes to half a day, depending on how humid or dry the weather is, and what the condition of the hay is.

To keep from wilting some of the crop too much, Rhode says it is usually a good idea to cut no more at one time than you can put into the silo in half a day. To avoid too rapid wilting, use a wind-rowing attachment on the mower cutter bar, or follow close behind the mower with a side delivery rake.

FOR BEST RESULTS in cutting, set the cutter for a ¼-inch cut. Chopping the legumes finely makes it pack quickly and more tightly. And that's a "must" in making silage by the wilting method.

Distribute the silage evenly, and tramp it thoroughly in the top third of the silo. Put four to six feet of heavy, unwilted silage at the top, and if possible thoroughly hose down the top layer. Be sure to tramp down the silage well the first three or four days after filling; otherwise you'll have poor-quality silage from air getting in.

SKY GARDENER

Cultivating flowers on the roof garden of Chicago's YMCA Hotel, some 20 stories above the city's famed lakefront, is the summer long pastime of Claude Connett. Turning the hotel's roof into a veritable flower paradise for the enjoyment of the many young men and women living in or visiting this YMCA during summer months, is a well worthwhile hobby according to Connett, a veteran railroad man of 38 years and longtime resident of the hotel.

Serum skimping poor economy, farmers told

Farmers who skimp on serum in vaccinating their hogs against cholera are asking for trouble and getting it, the Illinois Farm Bureau Serum Association cautioned.

A survey in the state has revealed that such economizing recently has cost many farmers part of their hog crop.

In most cases an additional five cubic centimeters of serum per hog would have saved the animals, the survey found. The extra serum at current reduced rates would cost seven cents for a 40 pound pig.

The present price of Farm Bureau serum is $1.37 per 100 cc., a reduction of 15 cents from a month ago.

INACCURATE weight guessing is one of the causes for cholera outbreaks after vaccination, according to the survey's findings.

The dosage listed on the serum bottles is minimum. Thus a poor guess on a pig's weight may result in the use of too little serum and an attack of cholera.

Hogs older than they would seem judging by their size also require more serum. Skimping on dosages in such cases is another poor risk.

As further insurance against sick hogs at vaccination time farmers were urged to cut down on high protein feeds before and after treatment.

Hog raisers also would do well to avoid vaccinating sick porkers. Slight ailments in their pigs should not deter farmers from vaccinating, the serum association warned, but results are best with healthy, growing animals.

Best fly control from cleaning up breeding places first

An insect specialist today used a borrowed "ditty" to emphasize the importance of sanitation in fly control.

H. B. Petty, entomologist in the Illinois College of Agriculture and Illinois Natural History Survey, relays these lines from an insecticide company newsletter:

"The early fly's the one to swat
She comes before the weather's hot
And sits around and preens her legs—
And lays about a million eggs."

A spic-and-span clean-up of all fly-breeding places is a "must" if we're to keep fly numbers low. On farms flies reproduce in manure piles, old straw-stack bottoms, corners of hog lots, spots under self-feeders where ground feed has accumulated and begun to ferment, areas around barn drains, and other potential unsanitary spots.

Petty says cleaning out these places is a long step toward as fly-free a summer as possible. Then chemical sprays will be more effective on the much smaller numbers of flies. A thorough clean-up job now means we've got two strikes on Freddie Fly even before we spray him with chemicals.

IAA alerts farmers to tax changes

Illinois farmers can save themselves dollars and headaches by checking their 1950 real estate and personal property assessments, the Illinois Agricultural Association warned.

New local assessment practices are changing the whole tax picture in many areas, according to Bert Vandervliet, IAA tax expert.

The IAA is the state Farm Bureau organization with 175,000 farm family members.

Under new state laws, county assessment supervisors are free to make changes in assessments of either real estate or personal property. With the exception of Cook and St. Clair counties where the new legislation doesn't hold, the supervisors have until next Monday, June 19, to make the changes.

HERETOFORE, Illinois taxpayers received individual notices of tax increases. Now, however, publication of assessment changes is considered sufficient. The lists will appear in most localities between July 10 and the end of the next month.

Taxpayers also should find out what multiplier is being used in increasing local assessments to the so-called level of full fair cash value, Vandervliet said.

If the new figure is too high compared with other property of about the same type and in the immediate vicinity, taxpayers should file a written complaint with their county assessment supervisor. If this doesn't do the trick, the taxpayer may file with the county board of review. This entitles him to a hearing.

August 1 is technically the deadline for filing these complaints with boards of review. However, if the publication date is late, the taxpayer is allowed 10 days to submit his written objections with the boards of review.

Paddock Publications will be running the assessment figures this summer of Barington, Palatine, Wheeling Elk Grove, Hanover, Schaumburg, Addison and Bloomingdale townships.

Savings bond holdings by farmers show upward trend

Farm holdings of U. S. savings bonds have increased every year except 1946. And they're expected to take a decided jump this year, especially during the Independence Savings Bonds Drive, which ends July 4.

Economists in the Illinois College of Agriculture said today that for the whole country the value of farmer holdings of savings bonds now is nearly as large as the total national farm real estate debt.

It's pretty hard to make a sounder investment than savings bonds. By holding them to maturity, you get $4 for every $3 you invest.

MEXICAN BEAN BEETLE — A "bad hombre" from old Mexico, this little eight-spotted pest arrived in Alabama in a shipment of alfalfa hay in 1920 and now bedevils bean growers throughout the country. He spends winters on the ground in leaves and rubbish and looks like a lady bug, although somewhat larger. The advance guard is on hand when beans first push through the ground, while other beetle waves keep straggling out of winter hibernation over the following two months. They feed on under sides of leaves, the upper skeleton of the leaf being left intact. After a week they lay eggs from which spiny white larvae hatch. These larvae also eat leaves, further reducing the bean crop. From egg to adult takes about a month, so in warmer climates several generations are produced each summer. Because of their summer-long threat to the crop, these pests were difficult to control with arsenical insecticides which left dangerous residues on beans and made vines and foliage unfit for cattle feed. Recent experiments in New Jersey bean fields have developed an ideal control through a dust containing 10% "Marlate" 50 methoxychlor insecticide, at the rate of 30 pounds per acre. This is not only a more potent beetle killer than many of the old highly poisonous materials, but low in toxic hazard so it can be used close to harvest time.

Butterfat Tests Vary Seasonally

Usually butterfat tests are lower during the hot summer months than during the winter. Thus in July and August, the butterfat tests of the University of Illinois herd averaged 3.95 percent compared with 4.3 percent in December and January.

Butterfat Tests Also Vary From Day to Day And From Week to Week

Butterfat tests also vary from day to day and from week to week. The butterfat test for one cow in the University herd changed from 4.3 percent for the week ending March 3, 1950 to 3.7 percent for another week in March. Butterfat for another cow varied from 4.5 percent to 3.6 percent in different weeks in March. Frequently butterfat tests for individual cows vary more than do those for the herd.

Why Do Butterfat Tests Vary?

Some of the factors causing changes in butterfat tests are: temperature changes; changes in humidity; extent of lactation period; changes in type of feed; length of time between milkings; and other irregularities in environment.

Control brush on all local farms with chemicals

Most types of undesirable brush growing in fence rows, drainage ditches and pastures can be eliminated by applying a mixture of 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T.

This information comes from Fred W. Slife, instructor in crop production at the Illinois College of Agriculture. He says that this mixture is not poisonous to livestock or humans, nor is it corrosive to your spray equipment.

About the worst feature is that it may drift through the air onto susceptible crops and damage them. The answer to that is to spray only when there is no wind and to be careful to apply the spray only where it is needed.

Spray brush in the spring after the leaves are fully developed. It won't be as effective in mid-July as it will be right now. As a general rule, cut down brush over 10 feet tall and spray the regrowth when it appears.

TO GET an effective kill, be sure and cover all the leaves with the chemical. It will be a good idea to plan on two sprayings, although one will be enough for some types of brush. Some of the common woody plants killed with one application are willows, poison ivy, wild grape vines and sumac.

When the brush is thick, use a sprayer that develops 100 lbs. of pressure or more to get better coverage and kill. When you spray drainage ditches, be extra careful to avoid drift of the spray into adjoining clover or soybean fields.

You will find recommendations for mixing the chemicals with water on the container. Follow the manufacturer's directions.

Glenview dump wide open again 'til fall

As a result of Judge Leonard Reid's decision that plaintiffs and defendants in the Citizens Action association suit, to stop the City of Chicago from dumping garbage in the Lutter Brickyard Clayhole, should present briefs instead of arguments in his court not later than July 15 and his statement that he will not render his verdict until fall, Glenview is facing a summer with the dump "headache" still hanging fire. The Metropolitan Disposal company trucks apparently will be unhampered in their visits to the dump.

GIs should have insurance dividends by June 30

Veterans of World War II who do not receive their special dividend payment on National Service Life Insurance by June 30 are advised to file a "special inquiry" form, the Illinois Veterans Commission said.

However, it was pointed out that inquiries through IVC offices will not be filed until after that date.

IVC has been informed that over 15,000,000 dividend applications were filed for the special dividend and that to date nearly all have been paid.

The "special inquiry" form will be available at all of the 70 offices of the IVC throughout the state beginning July 1, it was announced.

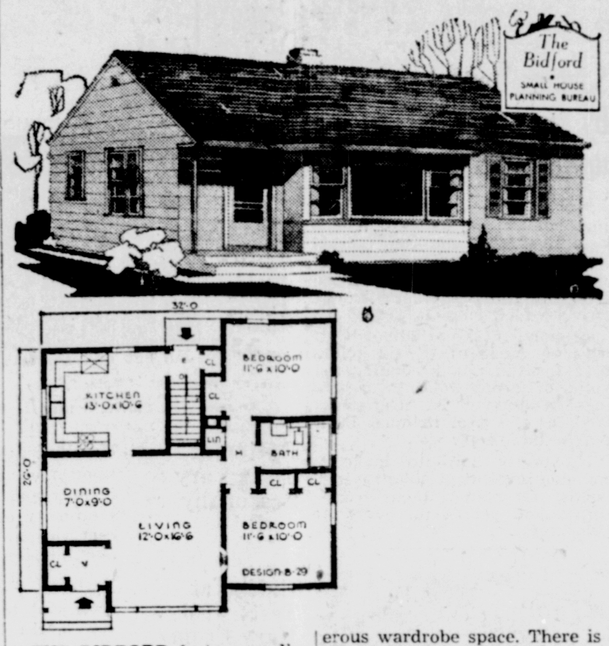
Service officers can also assist veterans on other matters pertaining to their National Service Life Insurance, especially those regarding reinstatement, conversion to permanent types of policies and changes in beneficiaries.

IVC offices are located at 164 N. Marion, Oak Park; 213 Liberty building, Wheaton; and 634 Davis, Evanston.

Lumber Production

In analyzing the total lumber production by geographic regions in the United States since 1850, the percentage contributed by the western regior has been comparatively stable since 1929, while the southern region has varied little since 1919. The period 1870 to 1919 has shown a shift of volume from the northeastern, central and lake states regions to the southern and western lumber producing regions.

New ideas for that home



THE BIDFORD features a dining alcove which forms an L-shaped living room. The plan provides cross ventilation and light as well as increased livability of both the dining and living areas in the L-shaped room.

The Bidford is entered through a vestibule equipped with a coat closet, the roof overhang provides shelter for this entrance.

The kitchen of The Bidford is arranged to eliminate unnecessary steps. It also has ample dining space. A convenient closet is situated at the rear entrance to the kitchen.

All of the bedrooms have generous wardrobe space. There is a linen closet in the hall.

The low roof lines and large windows give a pleasing appearance to The Bidford, which is set close to the grade.

The exterior of the house is finished with siding. The roof is covered with asphalt shingles. Plans call for insulating walls and ceiling.

Dimensions of The Bidford are 32 feet wide and 26 feet deep, with a full basement. It has an area of 905 square feet and a volume of 18,281 cubic feet.

For further information about THE BIDFORD, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "I calculate it is true," or, "We calculate to go next week." Say, "I think it is true," and, "We plan to go next week." Primary meaning of calculate is to determine by mathematical processes.

Do not say, "I prefer those kind of flowers." The word kind is singular. Say "I prefer this kind of flowers."

Do not say, "Had I have known you were going, I would have been there, too." Say, "Had I known (omit have) you were going, I should have been there, too."

Do not say, "I feel like I had slept for days." Say, "I feel as if (or, as though) I had slept for days."

Do not say, "Aren't I?" The correct expression is, "Am I not?"

Do not say, "He entered into the room." Enter means to go into. Say, "He entered the room."

WORDS OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED

Acclimate. Pronounce a-klimat, first a as in at unstressed, first i as in climb, and accent the second syllable, not the first.

En route. Pronounce an-root, a as in ah, accent on second syllable, and not the first syllable as enn.

Guidon (military flag). Pronounce gi-dun, i as in guide, u as in run, accent first syllable.

Reconnoiter. The preferred pronunciation has the first syllable as wreck, accent on third syllable.

Promenade. Pronounce prom-e-nad, o as in on, e as in me unstressed, a as in ah, principal accent on last syllable.

Dictator. Preferred pronunciation is with accent on second syllable.

WORDS OFTEN MISSPELLED

Excel, only one l; excellent and excellence, two l's. Ingenious (clever), observe the ious; ingenuous (frank), observe the uous. Forbade; observe the e, although proonunced for-bad, a as in at. Permissible; two i's. Apostrophe; observe the phe. Cavalry (horsemen); do not confuse with Calvary (where Christ was crucified).

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Terse; elegantly concise; free of superfluous words; brief. "His speech was terse and to the point."

Abnormal; not according to rule; unnatural. "He had an abnormal thirst for knowledge."

Allegory; setting forth of a subject under the guise of some other subject. "His stories were allegories, and succeeded in bringing a better understanding to his listeners."

Determinate; having defined limits; definite. "The company's president has policies which are exact and determinate."

Drastic; acting vigorously; extreme; effective. "Such conditions call for drastic action."

Superficial; understanding only the ordinary; not learned. "A superficial mind cannot grasp these truths."

BACKYARDS

Children have great imaginative powers, Childcraft books point out, and can be provided with very rich experiences at little or no expense. This is true, for example, in permitting children to turn their own backyards into camp sites if a costly trip is out of the question. A roasting weiner smells almost as good at home as in the Maine woods, and a clothesline tent is an adequate tepee.

Fight Against Tuberculosis

A nationwide attack against tuberculosis was launched in 1904 with the founding of the National Tuberculosis association. Today the NTA has 3,000 state and local affiliated associations through continental United States and the territories.
